Dare to Reuse Art Contest 2012

Art can help promote reduce, recycling, reuse for life

If you see the number of items that go into an average landfill on a daily basis, one can see we are vastly overusing our resources and filling up our landfills much too quickly. The practice of "reduce, reuse, recycling" is more important than ever and by practicing these three rules of thumb through any art medium, we can show others how easy and fun it really is!

Consider entering your class into the City of San Diego's Environmental Services Department's "Dare to Reuse" art contest, which involves making any piece of art work (drawing, painting, sculpture) from found objects.

Imagine one of your students as a famous found object artist!

The top 12 entries will be featured in a 2013 on-line calendar

Entry details:

- Make sure all entries are made from found object materials rather than virgin materials.
- Contest open to City of San Diego schools only (public or private/grades 4 to 12).
- Submit the entries from your class to the SDCOE contact below.
- Submission dates: November 7 – March 5
