I. INTRODUCTION TO THE TABULAR LISTINGS

A. Definition of Terms Employed in the Tabular Listings

1. Architectural Styles

Classification of resources by Architectural Style consists of the assignment to the resource of a label signifying certain aesthetic characteristics of the resource's visual design. The designation of a building as being of the Queen Anne, Romanesque or Moderne Style, permits a reader familiar with the terms to make certain assumptions about the appearance, materials and perhaps the date of construction.

A drawback of stylistic designations is that there are more building style types than there are agreed-upon definitions for those styles. This is particularly true of 20th Century buildings. Ambiguities abound, arising from the free mixing of "pure" style types by architects, designers and builders, and by sometimes multiple levels of remodeling as well. Some level of judgment on the part of the surveyor may frequently be required in the discernment and designation of a primary style for a building that may contain an equal mixture of several different recognized styles.

However, the classification of historic resources by style remains a valuable planning tool, and should be attempted. Users of the system should remind themselves that classification by style cannot at this time be considered an exact science, and they should be prepared to encounter occasional subjective discrepancies at variance with their own knowledge or views.

For the purposes of the Historical Mid-City Architectural Reconnaissance Survey, the nomenclature of architectural styles developed by the National Park Service has been used as the standard definition. This nomenclature can be found in the National Register Bulletin # 24: Guidelines for Local Surveys: A Basis for Preservation. Some terms have been added to the NPS nomenclature, in an attempt to directly describe certain prevalent architectural styles frequently seen in the Mid-City area. In addition, the original 1989-1991 Greater North Park Survey used some terms that are not consistent with the NPS nomenclature and may be confusing. These supplemental terms are distinguished in the standard NPS nomenclature list below by the addition of two asterisks () after the term.

Each surveyed resource was assigned one style term, considered to best represent the resource.

The stylistic terms used in this Reconnaissance Survey Report are listed below. Additionally, refer to the illustrations (Volume 2, Section III, B), depicting local examples of the principal stylistic terms listed here.

2. Conditions

The condition of the resources were evaluated using the approved nomenclature of "Good, Fair and Poor", which conforms with the National Park Service recognized Georgia State University Criteria for evaluating resources. The Greater North Park Survey had used the additional category of "Excellent". All references to "Excellent" have been modified in the tabular listing to "Good".

3. Present Use

The following categories of present use were identified within the survey area. Abbreviations of category names were used in The Greater North Park Survey. This report has attempted to replace all of the abbreviations with the full name. A legend for the abbreviations is listed below for clarification to the Greater North Park Survey.

APT	Apartment
COMM	Commercial
CT	Courtyard
DUP	Duplex
EDUC	Educational
INDUST	Industrial
INST	Institutional
REL	Religious
RES	Residence
RES SF	Single Family Residence
RES MF	Multifamily Residence
UTIL	Utility

4. Evaluation

a. All of the resources have been reviewed and received one of four potential evaluations:

CS — Contributing Structure - A resource that contributes to the contextual physical characteristics of the area.

CS-D-_____ — Contributing Structure within a District with a specific District named - A resource that contributes to the contextual physical characteristics of the district.

IS — Individually Significant Resource - A resource that is independently significant for its distinctive design or physical characteristics and does not require a contextual setting to derive a level of significance.

IS-D-_____ — Individually Significant Resource within a District with a specific District named - A resource that is independently significant for its distinctive design or physical characteristics and does not require a contextual setting to derive a level of significance. However, the resource is situated within a district and contributes considerably to the contextual physical characteristics of the district.

b. Prefix - A prefix of "Outside" was used for two districts; Carteri Center and David O. Dryden. The prefix was used to identify resources, located outside of the physical boundaries of the potential district, which are significant due to their relationship to the resources within the district boundaries and their identification to Bertram J. Carteri and David O. Dryden.

c. There are thirteen potential districts that have abbreviated names in order to accommodate the space available in the tabular lists.

Evaluation	Potential Historic District
IS or CS -D-Dryden	David O. Dryden
IS or CS -D-Shirley Ann	Shirley Ann Place
IS or CS -D-Park Blvd. Rev./Mod.	Park Boulevard Revival/Moderne
IS or CS -D-Apartment Row	Park Boulevard Apartment Row
IS or CS -D-Carteri	Carteri Center
IS or CS -D-Burlingame	Burlingame
IS or CS -D-Kensington	Kensington
IS or CS -D-Talmadge	Talmadge
IS or CS -D- South Park	South Park
IS or CS -D-Golden Hill	Golden Hill Expansion
IS or CS -D-Banker's Hill	Banker's Hill
IS or CS -D-Marston Family	Marston Family
IS or CS -D-Marston Hills	Marston Hills

5. Photo Number

DIST FRM	District Form - The photo record is mounted on the resource's historic district form within Volume 3 Potential Historic Districts.
DPR	Historic Resource Inventory Form DPR 523 - The Greater North Park Survey used these forms and the photo is mounted on the form for this resource. Primary Record DPR 523A - This is the current reiteration of the form used for the current survey and the photo record is mounted on the form for this resource as well as maintained in the photo appendix to this report. See Volume 4.
PHOTO FILE	The planning department maintains a few photo files. Each file contains approximately 3x5 prints arranged alphanumerically by street name and address number. It is assumed that the bulk of the photo records from the Grater North Park Survey are maintained in these files and a spot check for accuracy found no errors.
XXX-XX	Photo Record Number - The first three digit number refers to the film roll number. The second two digit number refers to the negative number. The proof sheets and negatives are maintained as an appendix to this report. See Volume 4.

The photo equipment used for the survey was a Nikon N6006 35mm SLR camera. The following lens was used: Tamron AF 28-200mm 1:3.8-5.6; 720 focal length 00-2.1m. The film used for the survey was TMX 100 ASA 100 and PLUS-X ASA 125 35mm, black and white. The paper finish was ILFORD resin coated gloss. 24 and 36 exposure film was used and commercial retail outlets were used to develop the film. The storage sleeves are Avery, Polyvu, Archival Polypropylene, heavyweight/non-glare. The standards of photography follow the Historic American Building Survey (HABS) Photographic Specifications, Division of National Register Programs, National Park Service, dated June 1989.

The period of time the photos were taken are as follows:

Kensington	June-August 1995
Southpark	August-September 1995
Goldenhill	August-September 1995
Bankers Hill	September-November 1995
Hillcrest	September-November 1995
Marston Hills	March 1996
Dryden	April 1996
Burlingame	April 1996

B. Use of Computer

It is very important to understand that the data base program, dBASE 3, and the form generating program, Dimitri, are not inter-relational. Inputting a new resource in the data base does not automatically create a new resource file in the form generating program, Dimitri. Any new data must be manually entered into each program.

a. Data Base

The data base program dBASE 3 is an excellent program for data management. With this program the accumulated data can be searched or organized based on any number of criteria. For organization the data can be sorted based on any of the eight different fields. For example the data can be sorted in ascending or descending assessor parcel numbers or a specific grouping of assessor parcel numbers. Or the data can be sorted alphanumerical by street address or for just a specific street. Once the data has been sorted it can be exported to a word processing program for printout. The data base can be searched for specific criteria such as all resources of a specific style or all resources of a specific district. The data base can also be searched for a listing of all of the architectural styles identified. For specific commands for manipulating the data base refer to the program users manual.

b. DPR Forms

The Dimitri program for DPR form generation is a menu driven program facilitating its ease of use. Each file contains the records for a resource. Most records consist of the Primary Record and the Building, Structure, Object Record. However, files can also contain several other records such as a District Record. Each file has had the preliminary base information entered into the records. As additional information becomes available for a specific resource the file of that resource can be modified and amended. This program also contains a search feature that can be used to scan the records on any of six different fields. The program can even search descriptive text sections for a specific descriptive reference such as "parapets" and would locate all the files with descriptive references to parapets.

c. Maps

The maps have been plotted using AutoCAD release 12 a powerful computer aided drafting program. The maps have been created by assembling a number of layers. The base maps were supplied by the San Diego Regional Computing Center. The layers can be manipulated to create any combinations of information. For specific commands for file manipulation please refer to the program's user's manual. In addition, the AutoCAD file can be transferred into the planning departments Geographic Information System (GIS).

d. Report

Word processing of this report has been executed with WordPerfect 6.0. This is a widely used word processing program and is currently use by the Planning Department. It is important to note that the word processing files are not backward compatible and may become seriously corrupted if they are used with lower numbered versions of the program.
