Interest in the program remains great, with more than 3046 calls received regarding HPRP this quarter. New Point of Entry organizations and new staff have been added to keep up with the high demand for HPRP assistance. Intensive efforts to house HEWSP clients have resulted in the placement of 21 clients into affordable housing. These clients will continue to receive case management to address their future needs and basic living skills. program started receiving referrals from the Veterans Administration of veterans who need HPRP funding to help them transition to VASH vouchers as their exit strategy. Due to the increased focus on HEWSP and veteran clients, screening and intake of general public clients was scaled back until June, with 46 screenings and 35 intakes in April and May. In June the program began a push to take in new clients, and case managers screened 144 people and did 42 intakes for new clients. Case managers also worked on recertifications of eligibility as required for HPRP clients who have been in the program for 3 months. The City's HPRP program also reached out to organizations that support clients in looking for and gaining employment. All new HPRP clients are required to work with subrecipient Legal Aid's Credit Counseling Team to create family budgets to gain awareness of their spending patterns and how to make financial goals/decisions for the future. The goal is for clients to gain insight into their financial situation and to ensure that they can plan for how to pay their rent when HPRP assistance ends.
