

QUALCOMM Stadium

Department Description

The Qualcomm Stadium special revenue fund supports daily operations at the Stadium. Qualcomm Stadium has become an icon on the American sports scene. Opened in 1967 and expanded in 1984 and 1997, the Stadium has served as an important showplace to many of the most highly visible events in the world. In 1980, the Stadium was named in honor of San Diego Union Sports Editor Jack Murphy, a tireless promoter of the stadium's necessity within the community. In 1997, wireless technology giant Qualcomm contributed $18.0 million for the naming rights to the stadium and greatly assisted in the financing of the 1997 expansion.

Service Efforts and Accomplishments

Qualcomm Stadium has hosted three Super Bowls, two Major League Baseball All-Star Games, two World Series and is the home of the National Football League's San Diego Chargers, and the Division I/NCAA San Diego State Aztec Football program. The Stadium remains visible to the nation's eyes through the annual Holiday Bowl and the Poinsettia Bowl attracting hundreds of thousands of out-of-state visitors to San Diego each year.

The Stadium's parking lot also remains very active in providing the public with access to Stadium property. The parking lot and the practice field, a 176,000 squarefoot turf field area, host nearly 200 days of events annually.

Stadium staff collaborates with a variety of partners to generate events from the Rolling Stones to Promise Keepers. The San Diego Convention and Visitors bureau, Sports Hall of Fame, Major League Soccer, and others work closely with Qualcomm Stadium to develop and host events of every type.
