During the week of October 11-15, San Diego County Crime Stoppers will partner with local, state, and federal agencies to profile more than 50 wanted sex offenders who are thought to be in the San Diego County area. The goal of the Fugitive Sex Offender Round-Up is to locate, apprehend, and prosecute convicted sex offenders who are out of compliance with probation, parole, have failed to register as a sex offender, or currently wanted on new charges.

On the next two pages, 10 suspects are profiled. Crime Stoppers is asking the public for information that will help law enforcement locate these suspects. Photos of each suspect are attached as email attachments. Profiles can also be found on the San Diego County Crime Stoppers website at <http://www.sdcrimestoppers.com/tuesdaywso.html>.

While it is impossible to predict an individual's future actions, two suspects are highlighted as the most wanted of this list. Floyd Jones and Jose Robles are of particular concern to our law enforcement partners. Jones is wanted by the San Diego Police Department for violating the conditions of his sex registration requirements. Jones' conviction offense is rape of a drug induced person, forced oral copulation and indecent exposure. Robles is wanted by the San Diego Police Department for violating the conditions of his sex registration requirements; he's also listed as a parolee-at-large. Robles' conviction offense is lewd and lascivious acts with a child.

Historically, the public has been very helpful in providing information on the location of fugitives profiled in the media to Crime Stoppers. Last month alone, 4 fugitive sex offenders were apprehended with the help of tips to Crime Stoppers. The public is urged to come forward with information on these suspects as soon as possible.

Crime Stoppers will pay rewards of up to $1,000 for information that leads to a felony arrest. Crime Stoppers' anonymous tip line number is (888) 580-8477. Anonymous email and text messages can be sent in via www.sdcrimestoppers.com.
