Coming soon! New Web Catalog Interface

[October 12, 2012]

The Library's new catalog will be easy to use with a simple Google-like search to bring you better results.

If you want to explore further, a range of other new features includes a stylish browsing carousel, the ability to place multiple holds at once or to add a group of items to a list, collapsible and expandable menus, multiple viewing options, the ability to place holds from lists and to suspend holds and more.

Click on the drop down arrows  to open the search boxes and see the options available.
