City of San Diego

Water Purification Demonstration Project

Did you know?

The City of San Diego imports approximately 85 to 90 percent of its water supply and recent court ordered restrictions have reduced the amount of water that reaches San Diego.

What is being done?

San Diego's Water Purification Demonstration Project is examining the use of advanced water purification technology on high quality recycled wastewater to provide a safe, local and sustainable water supply for the future.

We would like to make a presentation to your group

The presentation will include:

- ◇ San Diego's need for a local, reliable water supply
- ◇ The purpose of the Water Purification Demonstration Project
- ◇ The advanced water purification process
- ◇ The potential use of advanced purified water for Reservoir Augmentation in the future
