SAN DIEGO POLICE ARREST SUSPECT IN ATTEMPT MURDER OF A POLICE OFFICER CASE FROM JAMACHA LOMITA

On Monday May 2, 2016, at approximately 10:45 p.m., an unknown suspect stepped out of a white Toyota Corolla and fired several gunshots at a plainclothes San Diego Police Detective. The detective, assigned to the San Diego Police Gang Unit, was in an unmarked vehicle and was following up on information of gang activity in the area of Glencoe Drive and Jamacha Road. The police detective was not injured by the gunfire, but his vehicle was struck several times. Uniformed patrol officers quickly responded to the area and found the suspect vehicle driving west on 7700 Jamacha Road where they initiated a high-risk traffic stop of the suspect vehicle. During the traffic stop, an adult male exited the vehicle and started to flee.

A patrol officer, fearing for his life and the safety of other officers, fired one round from his service weapon. It was not known whether or not the suspect was injured by the gunfire. Three other occupants were detained and subsequently arrested for various charges. 31-year-old Kimberly Denise Hooker was arrested for attempt murder for her role in the shooting. The two male occupants were arrested and booked for weapon charges and a probation violation.

San Diego Police Department Homicide Detectives were called to the scene and had been actively investigating the incident. On May 5, 2016, at approximately 4:30 p.m., San Diego Police detectives arrested 30-year-old Larry Jones of San Diego without incident in the 1600 block of Oro Vista Road. Jones was booked into County Jail on one count of attempt murder.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to call the Homicide Unit at (619) 531-2293 or Crime Stoppers at (888) 580-8477.
