

I will be working on Thursday til 6:30pm and won't get home til 7, so I'll miss your Redistricting Commission Special Meeting.

I tried to submit a comment on the portal, but I think I'm not doing it correctly, so I'm emailing here instead, but I hope that you take into consideration our input too--

We think that it's a weird to split The Golden Triangle / University City into two halves, especially since we do a lot in both sides (of Genessee) of UC.

We also agree that splitting Clairemont into two is disjointed. (We've lived in both communities). We think following the common / existing boundaries (both natural such as canyons and human-made like the freeways) is better. A few of the commenter submitted plans seem to do a better job than the currently proposed districting.

We are opposed to the proposed redistricting and agree with many of the thoughtful comments on the site.

Thanks for giving this a second thought, Diana Meisenholder
