The race is governed by the same international cycling federation, we follow the same rules, and we have the same teams and riders of the Tour de France. The 2016 race is made up of eight stages completed over eight consecutive days; seven "point to point" races and one time trial. San Diego is hosting stage one on May 15th with the final stage being held seven day later in Sacramento on May 22nd. More information on the race can be found at www.amgentourofcalifornia.com.*

19. Other unique event features not covered above: The San Diego Local Organizing Committee has been working for over two years to bring this race to San Diego, because we believe that it is one of the very few events that allows universal participation while endorsing a healthy and active lifestyle. Also, because it is not confined to a single site or facility, it showcases to an international audience many of the wonderful communities that make San Diego County so special.
