INTRODUCTION

The publishers take pleasure in presenting the 1927 edition of the San Diego Directory to patrons.

Utmost care has been used in the production of this work and every possible precaution taken to insure accuracy and completeness in the information.

The publication has had the benefit and advantage of the complete organization of the publishers, and of the skill and experience of their corps of enumerators and compilers.

This City Directory is standardized through the efforts of the Association of North American Directory Publishers. Be it Kalamazoo or Baraboo the information arrangement is uniform. Sixteen gauge wire is identically the same size in Boston or Bellingham, railroad tracks are the same width in Connecticut and California; shoe sizes are standard whether made in Brockton or Stockton and so on ad infinitum.

In line with this economic trend to standardize all generally used products, this Association has decided to make, and is now making, all city directories published by Association members conform to certain standards in regard to make-up, compilation and classified business headings which will simplify and facilitate their use.

The several essential departments of the Directory are set forth in the order following:

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 13 to 20, includes a variety of miscellaneous information such as city government, state and county officials, churches, postoffice, public schools, secret societies, etc.

THE STREET AND HOUSEHOLDERS GUIDE, printed on pink paper, covers pages 829 to 1089.

In this department of the City Directory the streets are alphabetically arranged and described by giving the point of commencement on each street and its line of direction.

The number of each building on the street is given in the order of occurrence.

Following the number is placed the name of the householder occupying it.

The profession or business of individuals and firms is only given at their respective places of business; to find the occupation of householders, refer to Alphabetical List of Names.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE occupies pages 21 to 156. This section of the Directory printed on tinted paper, includes advertisements of leading manufacturers, business and professional interests of San Diego. They have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under classified headings and otherwise in various parts of the Directory. A casual perusal of these advertisements will picture many interesting phases of the city's activities. They are not display advertisements, primarily, however, but rather are reference advertising at its best. In a bustling, manufacturing city like San Diego, the need for this kind of information readily at hand is very great.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of citizens, business firms and corporations in San Diego, is included in pages 157 to 826. The County section, in which is included all cities and towns in the county except San Diego, are arranged alphabetically on pages 1235 to 1420.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is embraced in pages 1093 to 1234. This Department shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations in the city compiled in alphabetical order by headings appropriate to the class of industry pursued. This feature constitutes an invaluable epitome of the business interests of the municipality.

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA

FACTS ABOUT THE CITY

Prepared by the Publicity and Research Departments of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce

San Diego, today one of the fastest growing cities of the West, is the oldest city on the Pacific Coast. San Diego Bay, declared to be one of the three best natural harbors on the Pacific Coast, was discovered in 1542 by Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, a Portuguese navigator in the service of Spain. In 1602 Sebastien Viscaïno, a Spanish explorer, visited the beautiful bay and named it San Diego, popularly supposed to mean Saint James, but more recently interpreted as Saint Didacus.

The first white settlement on the Pacific Coast was established at San Diego in 1769 with the founding of the Mission San Diego d'Alcala, the first of the long chain of California missions, by Father Junipero Serra. The Pueblo of San Diego was organized in 1834, and in 1846 John C. Fremont raised the American flag at San Diego for the first time in California. Significant also is the establishment of the first irrigation system in America at San Diego, and the introduction of olive trees.

Truly San Diego has been a city of "firsts". Today among cities of its own size it is the fastest growing city in America. It leads them in per capita home building, and during 1925 was second among all the cities of the United States in homes built per thousand population.

During the past six years the community has fairly doubled its population, and today its population is conservatively estimated at 150,000. Bank deposits for 1926 amounted to $768,040,728; bank deposits, $73,831,267.13; bank clearings, $315,325,055.95, and building permits, $20,000,249. All of these figures are at least double what they were in 1920, and the building permit record is nearly six times as great.

San Diego is exceptionally situated with respect to land, air and water transportation. The first American port of call on the Pacific Coast above the Panama Canal, the city is becoming a busy seaport as the deep, sheltered harbor is developed. Regular steamship lines serving San Diego have increased from 4 to 22 in the last six years.

Two transcontinental railroads terminate at San Diego. It is the western terminus of the Lee or Bankhead highway, the Borderland highway, the Victory Highway, the National Old Trail, and the Old Spanish Trail, the last named stretching from St. Augustine to San Diego, and designated as the official border highway for the War Department. By air, rail and water San Diego is closer than any other Pacific Coast port to every point south of Chicago and east of the Mississippi.

The city is situated on an eminence overlooking the broad bay and the Pacific Ocean, banked by picturesque mountains. Practically every climatic condition existing within the United States can be duplicated in San Diego County, an area nearly equal to the State of Connecticut. From the tropical avocado and orange groves to the northern apple and wheat fields; from 30 inches of rainfall in some sections to desert conditions in other quarters, is the remarkable variation that can be experienced in a day's ride throughout San Diego County.

The city of San Diego, however, is noted for its equable climate, varying only 10 degrees between the mean winter temperature of 58 degrees and mean summer temperature of 68 degrees. Although popular with tourists as both a cool summer resort, and warm winter resort, the city is coming to be an important distribution center for the Pacific Southwest. Arizona and Imperial Valley is its rich back country, and San Diego is the logical outlet for this territory.

San Diego county is second in variety of minerals among California counties. Among those minerals worked at present are: Gold, gems, feldspar, bentonite, lithia, granite, crushed stone, silica, clays and limestone. Included in the county's principal agricultural products are: Alfalfa, almonds, apples, apricots, avocados, barley, beans, cherries, corn, figs, grapes, grapefruit, hay, honey, kaffir corn and milo maize, lemons, olives, oranges, peaches, plums, prunes, potatoes, tomatoes and walnuts.

Capitol of the 11th Naval District which is the second largest Naval district in America, the army and navy operations are one of San Diego's biggest industries. Rockwell Field, the army flying field; Camp Hearne, the cavalry unit; Fort Rosecrans, the coast defense; the Naval Air Station, the Destroyer Base, the Naval Training Station, the U. S. Marine Base, the Naval hospital, the Naval storehouse, and the Chollas Heights radio station are among the largest military units located in San Diego, representing a $35,000,000 investment.

The city of San Diego has many attractions, among them Balboa Park, third largest city park in America, situated in the very heart of this metropolis. Among the features of Balboa Park, which covers 1400 acres, are the famous zoological gardens of international reputation, the fine arts center including the massive Spreckels' outdoor pipe organ, the art gallery, the art institute, the scientific library and museums of natural history, Indian, Mexican and Oriental civilizations, archeology, anthropology, and miscellaneous collections. This cultural center was the scene of the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915-16. Located in this park also is the Boy Scout Indian Village, Girl Scout camp, the municipal golf course, and other recreational features.

There are numerous points of historical interest such as Ramona's marriage place, and the three missions: San Diego d'Alcala, Pala, and San Luis Rey. On Point Loma, described by the Encyclopedia Americana as one of the three finest views in the world, is located the International Theosophical headquarters.

In the back country is a chain of beautiful mountain lakes forming the city and county's water supply.

Few places in the world offer the diversification of industry, agriculture, recreation, and living conditions than does San Diego and its environs.

POPULATION

There are in this directory, issued by the San Diego Directory Co., publishers of the San Diego Directory for the past twenty-three years, 70,704 names in the alphabetical section. Using the multiple of $2\frac{1}{4}$, as has been the custom in previous years, to allow for the names of wives, which, although appearing in parenthesis following the name of the husband, are not included in the count, and the names of the children under age living at home with their parents, which are not included, gives San Diego a population of 159,084, and an increase of 11,099 since the last directory published by the San Diego Directory Co. was issued in 1926.

But the growth of the city or its advancement is not to be indicated by mere figures. The pages of this volume present evidence of general civic, social and commercial advancement, new business blocks, new dwelling houses and new factories, which with the quality and caliber of the people, meaning a progress even more important to a municipality than mere number of inhabitants.

DIRECTORY LIBRARIES

Copies of the latest editions of Directories of other cities throughout the United States and Canada are on file in the Directory Libraries maintained at the Merchants Association, 608 Electric Building, and at the Chamber of Commerce, Broadway and 2d, where they are accessible to the general public for single free reference.

MUNICIPAL PUBLICITY Advertising San Diego

An important function of the Directory is to set forth the characteristics and advantages of the city as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center. The Directory acts as a mirror, reflecting all that is noteworthy in the city in the above respects. In order to spread this information regarding the city broadcast over the country the publishers place copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, which are maintained in all the larger cities of the country, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements of San Diego, for business men the country over realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is.

The publishers take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for valuable assistance rendered in the way of furnishing information concerning themselves and their friends for this Directory, and also the public-spirited and progressive business and professional men for support given in the way of patronage.

A RECORD THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME

THE record of The Elliott-Horne Company is unique in the financial history of Southern California. A record of twenty-three years of successful handling of the same type of securities, in the same territory, with the same clientele means much.

In experience it covers twenty-three years in the actual purchase and sale of Improvement Bonds.

In volume of business it represents the handling of millions of dollars in securities of proved safety.

In policies it means a fixed adherence to the principles of safety and protection for investors.

In management it means unchanged control and direction since the foundation of the company.

We believe that properly selected Street Improvement Bonds issued by California Cities are the best tax-free investment in the market.

A bond yielding 6½ to 7 per cent. with ample security and complete tax exemption is worth investigating.

LIFE ANNUITIES

are the most satisfactory investments for persons fifty years of age or more, who have no occasion to bequeath an estate, the return being very much larger than from any other safe investment.

The income is sure (absolutely without risk), continuing so long as life lasts, and is TAX FREE. These contracts are issued without medical examination and guaranteed by THE PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of Philadelphia, organized in 1847, assets more than $335,000,000. At age 65, your money will bring you 10.8%; for older ages up to 20%. Ask for rates at your age. No obligation.
