INTRODUCTION

SAN DIEGO DIRECTORY CO., publishers of the San Diego City Directory, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1942 edition of the San Diego City Directory, which also includes Chula Vista, Coronado, La Jolla, La Mesa and National City.

Confidence in the growth of San Diego's wealth, industry and population, and in the advancement of its municipal and social activities, will be created as sections of this directory are consulted, for the directory is a mirror truly reflecting San Diego to the world.

The enviable place occupied by these directories in offices, stores and homes throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in directory service. With an unrivaled organization, having the courteous and hearty co-operation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the San Diego Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Population

The population of San Diego is 340,000. Due allowance is made for children and for women whose names are not listed separately from those of their husbands. Territory immediately adjacent, which is part of the city, as far as business and social life are concerned, is included in the directory.

Five Major Departments

The several essential departments are arranged in the following order:

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business firms and corporations, on white paper, is included in pages 21 to 956 for San Diego, and the San Diego Suburban Towns of Chula Vista, Coronado, La Jolla, La Mesa and National City in pages 1421 to 1588.

THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, TENANTS OF OFFICE BUILDINGS AND OTHER BUSINESS PLACES, AND STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE for San Diego covers pages 957 to 1308, on pink paper. In this section the names of the streets and avenues are arranged in alphabetical order; the residences and business houses are arranged numerically under the name of each street and avenue, and the names of householders and business concerns are placed opposite the numbers. Home property ownership is indicated by the character ◎ placed immediately after the name of the householder. The symbol ♤ preceding name denotes householders and places of business having telephones.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, beginning opposite page 1308, and separately paged from 1 to 92, on goldenrod paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of San Diego. These pages will be found particularly interesting and instructive to substantial purchasing factors. The advertisements have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best and, as such, merits a survey by all buyers anxious to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. The city's activities, in many interesting phases, are authentically pictured. In an ambitious and progressive community like San Diego, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available is very great and, frequently, pressing. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the liberal support the city directory enjoys in the many fields which it serves.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 1309 to 1420 on yellow paper. This department lists the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional interests in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable epitome of the business interests of the community. "The Directory is the common intermediary between Buyer and Seller." As such it plays no small part in the daily doings of the business world. "More goods are bought and sold through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium."

THE SAN DIEGO SUBURBAN TOWNS DIRECTORY of Chula Vista, Coronado, La Jolla, La Mesa and National City, arranged in alphabetical order, covers pages 1421 to 1588, on white paper.

Community Publicity

The directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in truthful terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of San Diego, for business men, everywhere, realize that the city directory represents a community as it really is.

The San Diego Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the San Diego City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained at the Chamber of Commerce, 499 West Broadway, for free reference by the general public. This library is part of the system of more than 500, installed and operated in the chief cities of the United States and Canada, under the supervision of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, of which the San Diego Directory Co. is a member.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the city directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

N. B.—These statistics have been gathered with care, and every effort has been made to insure accuracy. However, due to abnormal conditions, some of the above figures may change more rapidly and to a greater degree than usual.

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA

By JOSEPH E. DRYER
Founder and President,
The San Diego Heaven on Earth Club.

SAN DIEGO, in the southwest corner of the United States, is located on the shores of a great natural harbor and is bordered on the west by the blue waters of the world's mightiest ocean. To the south, but fourteen miles away, is Old Mexico. Toward the east, and plainly visible from the city streets, are mountain ranges that tower more than a mile above sea-level. It is an ideal setting for a great city.

San Diego, "where California began," is the birthplace of white civilization on the Pacific coast. Four hundred years ago — on September 28, 1542 — Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, Portuguese navigator in the service of Spain, entered the landlocked bay and thus discovered what is now the state of California. In 1602 Don Sebastian Vizcaino surveyed the port and bestowed upon it the name "San Diego." He might be called California's first booster, since he declared that this was "the best harbor in the whole South Sea."

The first white settlement was established in 1769 by a military expedition from Lower California, attended by Franciscan missionaries under the leadership of Father Junipero Serra. On the present site of Presidio Hill he founded the first of the California missions, the beginning of a chain of twenty-one that extended up the coast, a day's journey apart, from San Diego to Sonoma. This mission trail became El Camino Real — or "The King's Highway." In 1774 Mission San Diego de Alcala — the mother of the missions — was moved about six miles inland to its present location in Mission Valley. Under Mexican government, San Diego was constituted a pueblo in 1834. The first United States flag to fly over Southern California was raised at Old Town in 1846, by Lieut. Stephen C. Rowan, U.S.N. San Diego was incorporated as an American city in 1850.

THE MODERN CITY

Modern San Diego had its beginning in 1867, when Alonzo E. Horton, a "Connecticut Yankee," arrived in San Diego with a vision of building a great city on the shore of San Diego Bay. He wisely chose a location a few miles south of Old Town and founded New San Diego, which is today the heart of the city. In 1885 came the railroad, linking San Diego with the East. At the dawn of the twentieth century San Diego had a population of 17,700.

Since then the city has made remarkable strides in population and importance. The Panama-California Exposition of 1915-1916 and the California Pacific International Exposition of 1935-1936, both held in beautiful Balboa Park, attracted the attention of the world. And, because of the salubrious climate and other natural advantages, San Diego has become one of the nation's greatest all-year playground and vacation resorts, as well as a naval, military, and aviation center.

THE CLIMATE

No article on San Diego is complete without a reference to the climate. The sunny climate and the splendid harbor are unquestionably the city's two greatest assets. Climatologists, world-travelers and physicians say that this area's year-round equable climate is unsurpassed. According to Dean Blake, meteorologist, in charge of the United States Weather Bureau office at San Diego, it is questionable whether there is another region of like area where the variety of climates comes so close to filling all demands as in this section of California. Mountains, deserts, valleys, and coasts, with their individual characteristics, lie within a short distance of each other. When hot, dry weather and almost unbroken sunshine is needed, it can be found within two hours of the city. Should mild, equable weather and small temperature ranges be desired, they almost always prevail along the coast. But if invigorating seasonal changes are wished, our mountains offer snow in winter, and warm, dry weather in summer.

The average rainfall near the ocean during a normal year is only about ten inches, but there are places in the mountains of the "back country" where the fall is well over forty inches, enough to insure adequate water for irrigation and domestic uses. To carry us through the long dry summers, when no rain of consequence occurs, an extensive and growing impounding system is used, so that at all times we are assured of abundant fresh water from our mountain lakes.

These long dry summers are a prominent feature of the climate. Except for an occasional thunderstorm over the higher elevations, the period from June to the end of September is virtually without rain. Contrary to expectations, however, our summer temperatures are mild and are rarely high; and the hot, humid weather of the central and eastern states is unknown. Moreover, thunder and lightning occur so seldom in the coastal belt that they are considered a novelty.

San Diego nights are always refreshing, even in midsummer, and long, sleepless nights are never experienced. Actually, there is scarcely a night in the year when blankets are not needed. As in most marine climates, the prevailing winds come from the ocean, bringing with them cool, moist air. This forms a protective blanket of cloud, or so-called "high fog," which, during the spring and summer months, prevails at night and in the early morning over much of the county west of the mountains. It is this stratum of ocean air which keeps the summer temperature many degrees below the average found along the same parallel of latitude, and which makes our summers as cool, comparatively, as our winters are warm. In fact, it is the weather during fall and winter that brings the greatest surprise and delight to newcomers; and many residents say they prefer the bright, clear, sunshiny days of the autumn and winter months to the more frequently overcast skies of spring and summer.

In short, it's a comfortable climate — healthful, balmy, and inspiring. From a strictly climatological standpoint, however, the outstanding feature is its equability. The official bulletins of the Weather Bureau describe this region as having the most equable climate in the United States. And, as Dr. Lorin Blodget put it many years ago, "All residents concur in pronouncing the climate more favorable to physical and mental activity than any other they have known, from whatever quarter they may have come."

Statistical proof of many of the foregoing statements will be found in the accompanying chart, furnished by the U. S. Weather Bureau. It is based upon their official 67-year records.

Favored by a naturally beautiful site, the builders of San Diego have exercised care in planning and construction, with the result that the city of today ranks as one of the most attractive in the world. The Spanish, or Mediterranean, type of architecture has come to be adopted as a "Southern California" style, giving the city a colorful and distinctive appearance.

Although San Diego is now an important and rapidly growing industrial and commercial center, it is still preeminently a residential and tourist city. Thousands of retired people from all parts of the country have located here to escape the rigors of other climes. For the visitor there are few other cities in the land that have so much to offer in scenery, historic lore, and places of interest, while the delightful climate affords recreational opportunities of every description throughout the year. The Chamber of Commerce, the San Diego-California Club, the San Diego Heaven on Earth Club, and the San Diego City & County Convention Bureau do everything within their power to assist visitors and prospective visitors and strive to make their stay here as interesting and enjoyable as possible. For these reasons this area has become a favorite convention center. A surprisingly large number of people come to visit — and then decide to make San Diego their home. Space limitations permit us to present only a few of San Diego's many attractions. The organizations just mentioned will be glad to supply detailed information.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Outstanding in importance is 1400-acre Balboa Park, in the heart of the city, one of the largest municipal parks in the nation. It is renowned for its beautiful landscaping and buildings as well as for its recreational and cultural advantages. Here, in a setting of semi-tropical trees, shrubbery, bright flowers, and wide, green lawns, are the numerous elaborate structures, many of which were inherited from the park's two great expositions; and most of them are now utilized for educational, cultural, and social purposes. The park provides two excellent golf courses and facilities for horse-back riding, swimming, roque, shuffle-board, horseshoe pitching, archery, tennis, croquet, lawn bowling, and many other forms of recreation. The institutional center includes many noteworthy units, such as the Fine Arts Gallery, the Botanical Building, the Museum of Natural History, and the San Diego Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, with its famous California Tower. The Globe Theatre houses the San Diego Community Players, while the Spanish Village Art Center adds further to the park's appeal. For music-lovers there are concerts on the great Spreckels outdoor organ all year 'round; and, during the summer months, "Symphonies Under the Stars" may be enjoyed in the spacious Ford Bowl. The San Diego Zoological Garden, occupying about 200 scenic acres in the park, ranks among the biggest and finest zoos in the United States in point of number and variety of specimens. Balboa Stadium, a concrete bowl seating 30,000, provides facilities for football and baseball games, as well as many other outdoor public gatherings.

Of the city's 52 other parks, Presidio Park and Torrey Pines Park are especially noteworthy. The former, rising above historic Old Town, marks the site of the first white settlement on the west coast of the United States. It is often called "the Plymouth Rock of the Pacific." Presidio Park is charmingly landscaped and offers exceptionally fine views. Torrey Pines Park, on the ocean-front north of La Jolla, is the habitat of the unique Torrey pine, which is native to only one other place on the globe — Santa Rosa Island, off the California coast. Also within the city limits is Mission Bay State Park, a reservation of some 3,000 acres of land and water, now undergoing development. It is destined to become one of the finest marine parks in the country. Cabrillo National Monument, atop Point Loma, offers a panoramic view which is described in the Encyclopedia Americana as one of the three finest prospects in the whole world. Another remarkable view may be had from the Mt. Helix Open-air Theatre, overlooking the fruitful El Cajon Valley.

Other points of interest include the Old Mission, Ramona's Marriage Place, the Serra Museum in Presidio Park, and San Diego State College. The college buildings are acknowledged to be the finest example of Moorish architecture on the Pacific Coast. The Scripps Institution of Oceanography, north of La Jolla, has gained international fame. Sixteen miles from San Diego, just "south of the border" in Old Mexico, are Agua Caliente and Tijuana. And at Del Mar, just north of the city limits, is Bing Crosby's famous Del Mar Turf Club — the only seaside horse-racing track in America.

San Diego Bay is one of three natural harbors on the west coast of the United States. Besides its great importance as a naval base and commercial shipping port, its scenic assets cannot be overlooked. John Steven McGroarty, author and poet-laureate of California, wrote: "In all the world there is no more beautiful estuary than the Bay of San Diego."

San Diegans have a choice of many wide, sandy beaches that provide excellent ocean bathing and other recreational facilities. Among the closest and most popular are Mission Beach, Ocean Beach, Pacific Beach, La Jolla, Del Mar and Coronado.

The offshore waters of San Diego provide the best deep-sea sportfishing on the Pacific coast. For those who prefer fresh-water fishing, there are numerous lakes in the "back country."

THE BACK COUNTRY

San Diego is proud of her suburban territory and her so-called "back country" of rolling hills, valleys, mountains, lakes and desert. It is a colorful and fruitful land. Many sections are given over to the culture of oranges, lemons, avocados, grapes, and other semi-tropical or deciduous fruits. Vegetables of every kind are grown, for winter and summer tables. San Diego county has a larger acreage of avocados than all other Southern California counties combined. Some fruit or other crop ripens every month of the year. Dairy and poultry ranches abound. Among the principal livestock products are beef, turkeys, and honey. Tourist and camping accommodations are plentiful. San Diego county has more state parks — seven in all — than any other county in California.

One of the county's outstanding resorts is Warner Hot Springs and the Warner Rancho, noted landmarks in the history of early California. This mountain playground and recreation center has preserved the picturesque Indian and Spanish atmosphere of pioneer days.

The greatest scientific wonder of the world is located in San Diego county, but 66 miles from downtown San Diego. It is the giant astronomical observatory — the largest in the world — now nearing completion on Palomar Mountain, at an elevation of 5,565 feet. The mirror of the great telescope is 200 inches in diameter, and is the largest, costliest, and most famous piece of glass ever produced.

THE SPIRIT OF FIESTA

True to its Spanish heritage, there is a marked fiesta spirit about this region. This is proved by San Diego's two great international expositions and by the many festivals staged in the city and throughout the county. North San Diego, for example, has its Old Town Fiesta. Chula Vista has a Fiesta de la Luna. Coronado has an annual National Horse Show. La Jolla, charming seaside community within the San Diego city limits, stages an annual Rough Water Swim. La Mesa has its renowned Easter Sunrise Service on the summit of Mt. Helix, and National City holds its annual Junior Olympic Games. Then there is Escondido, with its annual Grape Day Festival; Pala, with its Indian Fiesta; and Ramona, with its Turkey Day. Oceanside has a yearly Bathing Beauty Pageant, while at Del Mar is held the annual San Diego County Fair. And nearly every community has an annual Flower Show.

This is truly a land of sunshine and flowers. The brilliant red poinsettia, blooming in thousands of yards and gardens and in the city parks during the holiday season, is now known as "America's Christmas flower." It is the floral emblem of San Diego.

Countless residents and tourists have sung the praises of San Diego, but it remained for the writer to coin the city's slogan of "Heaven on Earth." Like so many others, he came as a visitor — and returned to stay.
