City of San Diego Invites Public to Parks Visioning Workshops

THREE WORKSHOPS WILL FOCUS ON CITY'S PROGRESS IN PLANNING FOR FUTURE PARKS AND RECREATION NEEDS

SAN DIEGO – The City of San Diego will host three open house workshops for the public to review the progress that has been made in creating a new Parks Master Plan, a three-year comprehensive planning and outreach project to help create the parks and recreation system of the future. This is the first Parks Master Plan for the City in more than 50 years.

“The workshops are opportunities for residents to learn more about the Parks Master Plan and contribute ideas to help decide future parks and programs to meet the recreational needs of our citizens,” said Mike Hansen, the City’s Planning Director. “We encourage everyone to become involved in this important process.”

The three workshops are:

- Tuesday, April 23, from 4 to 8 p.m.
 Balboa Park Club Ballroom, 2150 Pan American Road W., San Diego, 92101
- Saturday, April 27, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
 San Ysidro Civic Center, 212 W. Park Ave., San Diego, 92173
- Saturday, May 4, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
 Carmel Valley Recreation Center, 3777 Townsgate Drive, San Diego, 92130

Those who cannot attend one of the workshops will still be able to learn more about the Parks Master Plan and participate in an online workshop tool, available in multiple languages, starting April 22 at: cityofsandiegoparksplan.com.
