Warning Period for Parking Enforcement Extended Two Additional Weeks in City of San Diego

CITY TO CONTINUE ISSUING WARNING CITATIONS THROUGH JULY WITH FINES
BEGINNING AUG. 1

SAN DIEGO – Starting Saturday, Aug. 1, the City of San Diego will resume full enforcement of all parking regulations, part of an effort to support local businesses and continue essential operations during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Identified as one small step toward restoring San Diego's economy, restarting parking enforcement will allow for increased turnover of customers in businesses districts and ensure accessibility for patrons. Parking enforcement resumed on July 1 with a warning period, during which violators received written warnings. Initially a two-week warning period, enforcement will now begin on Saturday, Aug. 1.

The City suspended citations for vehicles violating street sweeping parking restrictions, metered parking, time limits and yellow commercial zones on March 16 after the state and county stay-at-home order went into effect. Parking enforcement was limited to holiday or Sunday regulations only. Citations have still been issued for vehicles parked illegally at red, white and blue painted curbs.

Street sweeping has continued during the public health emergency. Courtesy notices were distributed to inform residents of the enforcement restart and return to regular service. View an interactive map and street sweeping schedules by visiting tinyurl.com/ycwn5cjp.

Drivers are encouraged to follow posted signage when looking for a parking space. To learn more about parking rules in the City of San Diego, and to pay or appeal a citation online, visit sandiego.gov/parking.
