College Area Prowler Turns Himself In

The San Diego Police Department Investigations Unit has identified the man wanted for prowling in the College area. 57-year-old Antonio Mack turned himself in at the SDPD Eastern Division substation on February 27th.

SDPD officers were first made aware of the prowler in late December when they were called to the 5700 block of Dorothy Drive to investigate a man who was watching women through a window while they showered. Images of Mack were picked up on a home's Ring camera. Mack has also been identified as the same suspect who was seen looking through a neighbor's window earlier that week. We want to thank our community for your patience and tips that led to this arrest.

SDPD will submit charges to the San Diego City Attorney's Office for prowling, peeping, and petty theft.
