San Diego Police Host Third Annual Pave the Way Career Expo

JOB OPPORTUNITIES AND SPECIALIZED UNITS ON DISPLAY FOR MORE THAN 150 POTENTIAL CANDIDATES

San Diego – Providing an inside look into a career in law enforcement, the San Diego Police Department (SDPD) hosted the third annual Pave the Way Career Expo today at Police Plaza in Mission Valley.

Over 150 potential candidates attended the fair Saturday along with San Diego Mayor Todd Gloria, Police Chief David Nisleit and various SDPD Units.

The expo allowed participants to talk one-on-one with SDPD officers about the hiring process, the academy or other advancement opportunities for their career. SDPD featured demonstrations from the Crime Lab, S.W.A.T., the Emergency Negotiation Team and more.

The free event is held annually, in addition to the Women's Hiring Expo, to give an inside look into joining SDPD. Anyone who could not make the event and is interested in joining should contact SDPD's Recruiting Unit or apply online today at joinSDPDNow.com.
