

Mike Rickey is a fourth generation San Diego native and not a career politician. He is a USCG licensed Professional Mariner.

As a lifelong Clairemont resident, Mike has deep roots in District 2 communities of Bay Park, Ocean Beach and Point Loma. He brings over 20 years of global professional leadership experience, giving him a broad perspective on efficient operations while continuing to raise his family in his hometown.

Mike opposes overspending and tax hikes, pushing instead for efficiently aligned staffing, enhancing public safety, and infrastructure repairs before new projects. He believes accountability and transparency are not just buzz words, they are requirements, and champions more civic involvement, and neighborhood-led redevelopment over outsider-driven plans.

Many of the issues facing us may not be solved by simple solutions, though some might be. He is not afraid to try new solutions, if they work and change if they don't. Public safety, homelessness, affordability, transportation and infrastructure are all lacking real positive results and he will promote new ideas and it doesn't matter whose they are.

As a local who's witnessed both positive changes and troubling declines, Mike is committed to saving money not spending and prioritizing core services.
