San Diego Police Continues P.L.A.Y. Program with “Game with a Cop” Event

San Diego — The San Diego Police Department is proud to continue its community engagement initiative, P.L.A.Y. – Police Leading Adventures for Youth, with another “Game with a Cop” event aimed at bringing youth and officers together through shared experiences, meaningful interaction, and community connection. Building on the positive response to SDPD’s first event last fall, P.L.A.Y. continues to create opportunities for young people and law enforcement to connect in a fun, welcoming environment.

Designed to strengthen relationships between local youth and police officers, P.L.A.Y. creates safe, positive spaces where trust, mutual respect, and lasting connections can grow beyond traditional law enforcement interactions.

The upcoming “Game with a Cop” event will take place at Kraken Dice, located at 739 Design Court, Suite 503 in Chula Vista on Saturday, April 11, from 3 to 6 p.m. Community members of all ages are invited to choose from a wide assortment of traditional board games and tabletop role-playing games, including Dungeons & Dragons, Magic: The Gathering, traditional board games, and more, all while playing alongside San Diego Police officers.

The event is designed to provide a relaxed and inclusive setting where youth can engage with officers as mentors, role models, and community partners while simply having fun.

Members of the media are encouraged to attend and cover this exciting initiative. Through programs like P.L.A.Y., the San Diego Police Department continues to demonstrate its commitment to community-oriented policing and meaningful youth outreach. Together, officers and the young people they serve can help build stronger, safer neighborhoods, one game at a time.

Anyone with questions regarding the event can contact the creator of this innovative program, Sergeant Jesse Ochoa, at jochoa@pd.sandiego.gov.
