

North Park Little League Balboa Park Baseball Complex

Morley Fields Snack Shack Plaza - NPLL History: 70th Anniversary

North Park Little League (NPLL) in San Diego, established around the early 1950s and officially operating since 1957, is a historic volunteer-run organization based at Morley Field in Balboa Park. Founded by community members including Joe Schloss and Dwayne Maley, the league has produced major league talent and maintains five fields dedicated to baseball figures.

Key Historical Facts:

- Originally, the league was sometimes called “Balboa Park Little League” before merging with Mike Morrow Little League and settling on North Park Little League.
- Games are played at the Morley Field Sports Complex in Balboa Park, with fields named after figures like Ted Williams and legendary coach Joe Schloss.
- Legendary Leadership: Joe Schloss coached in the league for over 60 years, starting in 1957, and was named California Manager of the Year in 1994.
- Major League Alumni: Notable players who began at NPLL include Gregg Nettles, Jim Nettles, John D'Acquisto, Jerry DaVanon, and Bob Cluck.
- Historical Highlights: The league achieved a milestone in 1994 and 1995 with teams reaching the Divisional Playoffs, a record for District 33.
- Divisions: NPLL provides baseball for children ages 4-17, including T-Ball, Coach Pitch, AA, AAA, Intermediate, Juniors, and Seniors.

Snack shack was brought into compliance with DEH a few years ago. The Southwest and North East comfort stations will be addressed in upcoming city-owned project.
