San Diego Police Southern Division Station to Close Temporarily

POLICE SERVICES WILL CONTINUE AS USUAL FOR SOUTHERN DIVISION COMMUNITIES

SAN DIEGO – The San Diego Police Department (SDPD) is temporarily closing its Southern Division station located at 1120 27th St. after becoming aware of a potential mold issue at the facility.

Out of an abundance of caution, the station will close to the public and SDPD employees effective Tuesday, September 29, 2026, while the facility is assessed and any necessary next steps are identified.

The Department is taking this proactive measure to protect the health and well-being of its employees and community members.

The timing for completion of the assessment is not yet known. The City and SDPD are working to evaluate the issue as quickly as possible.

Police services for Southern Division communities will continue without interruption. Southern Division patrol officers will temporarily operate out of Southeastern Division and will continue responding to calls for service as usual.

Walk-in services at Southern Division will be temporarily unavailable. Community members may visit other police stations during their regular operating hours for services available at those locations.

For emergencies, community members should continue to dial 9-1-1.

For non-emergencies, please call (619) 531-2000.

Many crimes can also be reported online at www.sandiego.gov/police.

SDPD will provide additional information as it becomes available.
