S1 Introduction

Citywide Project Labor Agreement

A collectively bargained agreement between:

➔ The City of San Diego

➔ Signatory Craft Unions

➔ The San Diego County Building and Construction Trades Council

Term:

- Effective July 1, 2024, for seven years

Covered Construction Projects:

- Years 1-2: City-advertised CIP $\geq$ \$5M
- Years 3-7: City-advertised CIP $>$ $1M

Effective July 1, 2026, the PLA applicability threshold will be lowered to include all CIP projects with an Engineer's Estimate of more than $1 million. This change is expected to significantly expand PLA administration, with over 90% of the program's contracts incorporating PLA requirements.

Mayor's Statement

Todd Gloria

Mayor, City of San Diego

"Every infrastructure project we deliver is an investment in San Diego's future and in the people who build it," said Mayor Todd Gloria. "Our Project Labor Agreement continues to help us deliver high-quality public projects while creating good-paying careers, expanding opportunities for apprentices, and strengthening our local workforce. That's how we build a stronger San Diego."

– Mayor Todd Gloria

The Citywide PLA:

- Visited 11 Apprenticeship Readiness Program (ARP) Cohorts
- Visited multiple Union Facilities
- Hosted 2 ARP Outreach Events, connecting Jobs Coordinators, ARP Instructors, & Helmets to Hardhats
- Created quarterly Jobs Coordinator and ARP Newsletters

Work Opportunities Program

ARTICLE 22

Delivering on PLA Workforce Commitments.

The program establishes structured workforce requirements to maximize Local and Targeted Worker participation on Covered Projects.

Partnership in Action

This program brings together all PLA parties: contractors, labor unions, and the City of San Diego to create a unified approach to workforce development, outreach, and measurable results.

Accountability

Monthly reporting tracks participation, outcomes, and compliance with the PLA.

Why This Matters

- Our Covered Projects are large, complex, and long-term, creating significant job opportunities for skilled construction workers in our region.
- This program is designed to support Local and Targeted Workers.

Apprenticeship Readiness (ARP / MC3)

- Collaboration with MC3-based Apprenticeship Readiness Programs which prepare participants for registered apprenticeship programs.
- Provides a direct pathway into long-term construction careers and builds a strong, sustainable construction workforce pipeline.
- Expand opportunities for targeted and underrepresented communities.

Coordinated Level of Effort

All PLA parties work jointly to:

- Identify craft labor needs.
- Align training with project demand.
- Ensure sufficient skilled workforce availability.
- Support placement and retention of Local and Targeted Workers.

Jenifer Arce

MC3 Program Lead / Instructor

We're proud to celebrate 47 graduates from two ARP cohorts on March 26, including our first-ever all-female class, and I'm deeply passionate about connecting more women, men, and young people to union construction trades, a truly life-changing pathway to a sustainable future.

Tony Pabarcus

SDCCE Instructor

I've been a member of Ironworkers Local 229 since 2005. It's been an honor and privilege to share my knowledge and experience with the ARP students. I look to instill the values needed to be successful in whichever apprenticeship program the students decide to pursue.

Jennifer Wilson

Vista Adult School Instructor

Jennifer taught 4 ARP Cohorts at the Vista location between [2024 and 2026], the final of which graduated in March, 2026. She is proud of the hard work her former students put in and is excited to see where the graduates' career paths take them.

Tatjana (TJ) Sebro

Cesar Chavez, Pala, IVC, SDCCE Instructor

Tatjana (T.J.) Sebro is a journey-level Union Sheet Metal Worker with Local 206 and an Apprenticeship Readiness Instructor with the San Diego Building and Construction Trades. Her current class is especially meaningful, a graduating cohort of 22 all-female students preparing to enter the trades.
