Mayor Todd Gloria has appointed Bethany Bezak as the City of San Diego's new Chief Operating Officer (COO), recognizing her strong leadership record, operational expertise, and proven ability to turn priorities into results. Bezak brings extensive experience overseeing major City functions, including Transportation, General Services, Purchasing and Contracting, and Performance and Data Analytics, as well as prior leadership roles in both the Transportation and Stormwater departments. Her technical background in civil engineering, architecture, and biological systems engineering further strengthens her ability to guide complex, citywide programs.

On October 19, the City Council unanimously confirmed her appointment, signaling broad confidence in her leadership and deep understanding of City operations. Mayor Gloria praised her as a proven leader who respects the employees who keep the City running and has the judgment needed to deliver reliable, high-quality services. He emphasized that Bezak will play a key role as the City continues work to expand housing, enhance neighborhood safety, repair infrastructure, maintain fiscal discipline, and make government more responsive to residents.

Bezak now steps into the COO role with a clear mandate to support employees, strengthen organizational performance, and continue advancing service improvements for San Diegans.

And don't forget to stop in and visit our friends over at The Harland Clubhouse before and/or after the round for great food and beverages.

Governor Newsom Signs Bill

Governor Newsom Signs Bill to Protect Municipal Golf Course Tee Time Access

Recently, Gov. Gavin Newsom signed a bill that prohibits third-party brokers from advertising, selling or transferring tee-time reservations at publicly owned golf courses without the written consent of the course operator.

AB 1954, "The Protecting Access to Reservations Act" was passed in response to a network of tee time brokers at municipal golf courses, who were making it very difficult to find a tee time without paying an extra fee. Golfers at the more than 200 municipally owned golf course statewide have also raised concerns about the proliferation of "bot" technology that can secure cancelled tee times the moment they are available. Assemblymember Christopher M. Ward (D-San Diego) authored the bill which was endorsed by the City of San Diego.

"Public golf courses belong to the public, and residents shouldn't have to compete with brokers buying up tee times just to turn around and sell them at inflated prices," he said in a statement. The legislation "puts an end," he said, "to this unfair practice and helps ensure local residents, seniors, students and families can continue accessing the public courses their communities support."

Have You Been to the Harland Clubhouse at Mission Bay?

Mission Bay Golf Course is all about having fun. Whether you're playing 9, dialing in your driver at the range or working on your short game – there's something for people of all ages and abilities. And the fun turned up a notch this summer with the addition of the Harland Clubhouse. This is the fifth location for Harland Brewing Co., bringing the quintessential clubhouse experience to Mission Bay. A patio, an indoor bar with TVs, great food and drinks – it's a place to bring the family or keep the good times going with friends.

"With 400+ people coming through the course each day, we are building new regulars and new fans every day through our friendly staff, beer, food and other offerings," said Anthony Levas, president and co-founder of Harland Brewing Co. "We pride ourselves on being a family-friendly establishment that is here to provide a great time for everyone who comes through the door."

The Clubhouse is open from morning to night, seven days a weekserving breakfast, lunch and dinner. That means you can grab acoffee and breakfast sandwich before your round, get lunch afterwardor grab a burger before playing some night golf. Food and drinks canalso be taken out onto the course and guests can order for pickup atthe turn. But it's more than just food and drinks adding to the experience atMission Bay. The Clubhouse hosts live music on Friday evenings; withSaturday evening shows also being added. It also hosts monthlybingo nights and is available for private events.

"You do not have to play golf to enjoy the Clubhouse," Levas said."Many of our patrons are people who simply live in the neighborhood.We keep the vibes high and the beer flowing, so stop by for a coldone and bring the family if you'd like."

Improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park

City of San Diego has completed $55 million in Improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park, which features a new aquatic complex, all-wheel plaza, renovated recreation center and other amenities for the community. Mayor Todd Gloria and Council President Pro Tem Kent Lee joined City staff and community members to celebrate the completion of the second phase of construction, which redeveloped the 17-acre space south of New Salem Street.

“This park serves as an important hub for activity, connection, and recreation," said Council President Pro Tem Kent Lee, who represents District 6. "This once-in-a-generation project delivers something for every member of the Mira Mesa community."

Improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park

Construction highlights include the aquatic complex, complete with a 14-lane competition pool, an activity pool and splash pad and the all-wheel plaza that allows access for skateboard, roller skate, scooter, bike and wheelchair users. Other improvements covered in the project were the two children's play areas, two multi-use sports courts, open grass areas, a public art piece, a parking lot, ADA-accessible walkways, lighting, landscaping and irrigation.

The Mira Mesa Gil Johnson Recreation Center also received renovations, like installing new heating, ventilation, air conditioning and roof, replacing damaged wood and finishes and repainting the building's exterior. All park elements are now open for public use.

Improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park

The project, managed by the City's Engineering and Capital Projects Department, began in September 2024, and was completed on schedule. The $55 million investment was funded almost entirely by developer fees in Mira Mesa and all funds were allocated prior to the fiscal year 2027 budget. The project was completed within the original anticipated budget.

"When community leaders came to me in 2022 and asked the City to help fund Phase II, Mira Mesa had already been waiting more than 20 years for these improvements," said Mayor Todd Gloria. "We secured the funding, broke ground in 2024 and, today, we are delivering a $55 million transformation that generations of Mira Mesa families will enjoy. This is what local government should do: listen to the community, follow through and turn a long-held vision into something people can experience every day."

"Green spaces are not luxuries; they are fundamental infrastructure for the human spirit."

Improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park

The public art piece, titled Songs of Mira Mesa, was commissioned by the Cultural Affairs division of the Economic Development Department. Artist Kate Clark designed the monumental sculpture that also serves as a gathering place, performance pavilion and a shade structure. The imagery and composition that adorn its roof, façade and benches were developed in collaboration with the Mira Mesa Art Teen Fellows, inspired by local leaders, educators, cosmologists and naturalists.

Despite the heat, the team trimmed trees and bushes so volunteers could dispose of the green waste in the dumpsters provided by the Environmental Services Department. In total, the project filled and cleared two dumpsters of green waste. Park Ranger Kyle Conners supported the cleanup by providing supplies and coordination. Efforts like these not only improve the appearance of the parking lot but also help enhance park drainage, which will be especially beneficial during the upcoming storm season.

Angier Joint Use Facility Project

The park beautification project at the Angier Joint Use Facility began when the on-site Grounds Maintenance Worker (GMW), Alberto Ramirez Santana, saw an opportunity to improve the area around the facility sign. Recognizing the weed overgrowth and the space's overall condition, he collaborated with a fellow GMW, Rafael Bañuelos Angulo, to plan a small group project focused on beautification and long-term weed control. Together, they identified the necessary supplies, secured weed cloth and other materials, and prepared the site for improvement. Once the materials were in place, additional GMWs, Patty Barajas, Carlo Gomez, Ruben Antunez and Juan Banuelos Angulo, joined in to help deliver and spread the mulch. Together, they created a clean, refreshed, and visually appealing entrance area that greatly enhances the facility's overall presentation.

SAFETY AND TRAINING

Ladder Safety

Did you know one wrong step on a ladder can lead to serious injuries? Here are three quick tips for safer climbing:

- Inspect Before Use: Look for cracks, loose steps, or damaged feet.
- Use the Right Ladder: Choose the proper height—no balancing acts.
- Maintain Three Points of Contact: Two feet and one hand at all times.

By climbing safely, we reduce fall risks and stay steady on the job.

"You don't rise to the occasion; you fall to the level of your training."
