Man Killed in Ocean Beach

San Diego — Shortly before 8:30 p.m., on Wednesday, October 28, 2026, officers from Western Division responded to reports of a fight between two men on the sea wall at 5000 block of Newport Ave. in Ocean Beach.

Officers arrived and found a 61-year-old Hispanic male critically injured and began first aid until relieved by San Diego Fire-Rescue. No obvious signs of trauma were observed, but the male was unresponsive.

The victim has been identified. His name is being withheld until his next of kin are notified.

The San Diego Police Department's Homicide Unit is handling the investigation and working to determine the facts surrounding the death by interviewing witnesses and reviewing surveillance video from nearby businesses.

SDPD's Homicide Unit encourages anyone with information about this case to please call the Homicide Unit at (619) 531-2293 or Crime Stoppers at (888) 580-8477.
