

San Diego Barracks, California
May 7, 1883.

To the Board of Supervisors
San Diego, California

Gentlemen:

I have the honor to submit for your consideration a letter from Dr. Tenor, U.S.A. Post Surgeon, representing the wharf at the foot of 'G' Street, in the immediate vicinity of the Barracks, as a nuisance on account of the horrible stench arising from drying fish at that point.

The parties engaged in this business should be required to dry their fish on the Peninsular, or at some point more distant from the thickly settled part of the town, or the stench arising therefrom will undoubtedly cause disease of some kind.

Trusting you will give this matter your earliest attention

I am very respectfully

Your Obedient Servant

W. H. H. H.
Captain Infantry Comdey. Post.

L.S. 493.
