

Fort Koshila San Diego Bk, Cal.
May 7th 1883.

To the Post Adjutant

Sir:

I have the honor to call your attention to the existence of a nuisance in the immediate vicinity of the Barracks, in the shape of a fish drying establishment, the stench from which, is not only exceedingly offensive but also deleterious to the health of the troops in garrison there; and to request that such action may be taken as will lead to its abatement.

Very respectfully
Your obedient servant
Eustace Lenox.
