City.
Nov 24. 1935.

Honorable City Council.

San Diego.

Gentlemen.

Several weeks ago according to the city manager, you passed an ordinance prohibiting parking at night on 47th St between University & Whittman, up to date the ordinance has not been enforced, presumably because new signs have not been posted, altho' most of the old no parking signs are still up.

The loudspeakers at the Tawon Hacienda is also very much in evidence, especially the last two or three weeks. Last night (Saturday) at midnight the songs could have been heard at least two blocks away, and this after promising the lieutenant in East S.D. that the loud speakers would not be used for any purpose.

Frequently we are awakened up two or three times in the night by the row in this dance place.

For a few nights after we complained the last time the noise did quiet down only to slowly build up again.

gentlemen may we please get some definite action about this soon?

Yours very truly

C. G. Gristle
