Gentlemen:

Having two sons interested in surfing, I feel I must offer an opinion on the subject.

I would like as much area as possible left open to surfers. Please consider leaving the Cliffs area available to the boys, as we on Point Loma prefer to have these 14 and 15 year olds nearby, rather than going over to Pacific Beach.

To close all areas of Point Loma except Ocean Beach to surfers would concentrate the boys in too small an area, and would be a hazard to the bathers. What's more, the Point Loma boys would tend to go farther afield for their surfing, and would be less prone to parental supervision.

While my boys are at the Cliffs area I know where they are, and am satisfied that they are not ruining residential property.
