2. City Council Resolution R-312023
Pursuant to California Penal Code section 933(c), the City of San Diego Mayor, City Council, and City Attorney provide the following responses to the findings and recommendations which are included in the above referenced Grand Jury Report (Report).

FINDINGS 01 THROUGH 04

Finding 01: The democratic process will work well when the voters receive reliable, verifiable, and objective information.

Response: The Mayor, City Council, and City Attorney agree with the Grand Jury’s finding.

See Response to Recommendation 18-20, as the Report does not consider the applicable information that the City of San Diego already provides to all voters.

Finding 02: The California Election Code §9212 and the Ballot Initiative Transparency Act of 2014 provide an example for municipalities in evaluating the potential impacts of ballot initiatives.

Response: The Mayor, City Council, and City Attorney partially disagree with the Grand Jury’s finding.

The City notes that California Elections Code § 9212 and the Ballot Initiative Transparency Act of 2014 do not apply to Charter cities such as San Diego that have not adopted the California Elections Code for their elections law. Thus, the City is not in a position to assess them as examples. Additionally, in order to incorporate certain requirements of these laws (including an early public comment period and additional analyses beyond those San Diego already provides), the City would need to amend its elections laws and processes, and the San Diego County Registrar of Voters may be required to provide additional and earlier reports than currently required regarding signature verification. Under the City’s elections laws, election timelines would not always be conducive to implementing portions of these laws. For example, measures may be qualified without sufficient time for the City to conduct certain analysis detailed in § 9212. Moreover, such analysis actually may be superfluous to what is already provided to all voters in the ballot pamphlet, as well as other analyses that may be prepared by the City Attorney’s Office, Independent Budget Analyst, or other City departments during the Council’s process of considering whether to adopt an initiative measure outright or place the initiative measure on a ballot.
Finding 03: The new California Election Code provides a model of how an extended period of review and analysis can provide unbiased and educational information to the voting public.

Response: The Mayor, City Council, and City Attorney partially disagree with this finding.

The City notes that the initiative provisions of the California Elections Code do not apply to Charter cities such as San Diego that have not adopted the California Elections Code as their governing elections law. Additionally, as alluded to in the response to Finding 02, the timing of preparing a § 9212 analysis may not synchronize with the City’s elections laws and processes. Whether the new “model” of the Ballot Initiative Transparency Act or § 9212 would result in an “extended period” of review at a local level could depend on when a given initiative is submitted and qualified, and the timing of this in connection with the date of the next election.

Finding 04: The City of San Diego may use public funds to educate the voters in an unbiased and informative way on issues raised by initiatives.

Response: The Mayor, City Council, and City Attorney partially disagree with the Grand Jury’s finding.

The City agrees that unbiased education of voters is critical and that California Government Code section 54964 allows public funds to be used for specific educational purposes. The section prohibits the use of public funds unless the exception below applies:

(c) This section does not prohibit the expenditure of local agency funds to provide information to the public about the possible effects of a ballot measure on the activities, operations, or policies of the local agency, if both of the following conditions are met:

(1) The informational activities are not otherwise prohibited by the Constitution or laws of this state.

(2) The information provided constitutes an accurate, fair, and impartial presentation of relevant facts to aid the voters in reaching an informed judgment regarding the ballot measure.

The Report does not consider the full extent of how the City of San Diego already educates voters in an “unbiased and informative way” about initiatives. This is accomplished through public hearings and the recitals in an underlying ordinance placing a measure on the ballot, the Ballot Title and Summary, the Fiscal Impact Analysis, and the Impartial Analysis of all ballot measures. These materials (other than the ordinance recitals) are provided in the voter pamphlet sent to all voters. All of the materials are freely available on the City Clerk’s website, under a tab devoted to election materials. Additionally, the City Attorney’s Office, Independent Budget Analyst, or other City departments may provide additional public reports about issues related to initiatives as they come before the City Council for discussion.

RECOMMENDATION

Recommendation 18-20: Consider a standard practice of commissioning a report through city agencies to detail the possible impact of an initiative on the city.

Response: The recommendation will not be implemented because it is not warranted.

Legal Background: The City of San Diego is a Charter city with its own election code. The California Constitution grants charter cities complete authority over their municipal affairs. Cal. Const. art. XI, §§ 5, 11(a). The California Constitution states that this includes authority to provide for the “conduct of city elections.” Id., § 5(b).

The San Diego Charter governs City elections and requires the City to adopt an election code ordinance, “providing an adequate and complete procedure to govern municipal elections.” San Diego Charter § 8. The Charter states, “All elections provided for by this charter, whether for choice of officers or submission of questions to the voters, shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by said election code ordinance.” Id.

San Diego Charter § 23 requires the Council to include in the election code ordinance an “expeditious and complete procedure for the exercise by the people of initiative.” The City thus adopted Municipal Code sections 27.1001 through 27.1051 to set forth the City’s initiative procedures. The initiative sections in the California Elections Code do not apply to the City of San Diego.

Additionally, San Diego Municipal Code (SDMC) § 27.0101 states that the purpose and intent of the City’s election code is: “. . . to provide an expeditious and complete procedure for the people’s right to exercise the vote. If there is any ambiguity or contradiction between the provisions of general law and the provisions of this article, the provisions of this article shall govern. The divisions relating to initiative, referendum and recall (including the initiative provisions relating to Charter amendments) are exclusive as required by the Charter.”

San Diego’s election laws regarding initiative, as stated in its Charter and Municipal Code, exclusively constitute its governing law. The City’s Elections Ordinance states, however, that if there is no controlling provision in San Diego’s election laws, state elections law may be relied upon for guidance. SDMC § 27.0106(d) (“All elections shall be conducted under the Charter and this article.
The City Clerk and City Council may rely on state elections law for guidance if there is no controlling provision in this article.

Response to Recommendation
The City notes that the provision of the California Elections Code addressed in this Grand Jury Report (§ 9212) does not apply to Charter cities such as San Diego. For that reason, the City has no experience with this process and cannot independently assess whether it has resulted in a “model” of “unbiased” information being provided to the public. Additionally, as alluded to in the response to Finding 02, the timing of preparing a § 9212 analysis may not synchronize with the City’s elections laws and processes.

The City of San Diego already provides “reliable, verifiable, and objective information” in the public hearings and ordinances placing individual measures on the ballot, and in the Ballot Title and Summary, the Impartial Analysis, and the Fiscal Impact Analysis its attorneys, Auditor, Independent Budget Analyst and mayoral staff prepare for every City ballot measure. This information (other than the ordinance recitals) is provided to voters in the ballot pamphlet sent to every City voter.

All of this information is available to all voters on the City’s website (along with arguments submitted in favor of or against a measure). These materials are well-disseminated and freely available to all voters. There is nothing in the Report that suggests why the materials produced under the current process are insufficient. To the extent that voters do not review the materials provided, an additional analysis, as suggested by the Grand Jury, may not address that issue.

To the extent that the “fact” portions of the Report disregard or do not mention the work that the City does to educate voters about every municipal ballot measure, the City disagrees with statements in the Report. For example, the Report does not cite the SDMC sections and the provision for an Impartial Analysis of every ballot measure, which the City Attorney prepares. Although certain ballot materials are labeled “analyses,” they are based on facts and presented neutrally, without advocacy, to voters, in compliance with legal standards.

The City Attorney’s Office, Independent Budget Analyst, or other City departments may also prepare additional public reports about issues related to initiatives as they come before the City Council for discussion.

The Report reviews some sections of the SDMC, but does not consider California case law that governs the content of ballot materials and sets legal standards the City must follow when preparing such materials for voters. The SDMC also sets out standards that are not captured in the Report. (For example, see SDMC § 27.0404, noting that a voter can bring a writ of mandate to seek judicial remedies for materials that are false or misleading; thus, this requires impartial ballot materials).
City Response to

“Improving the San Diego Citizens’ Initiative Process”

Lastly, requiring an additional analysis does not take into account the required staff time and resources and the timing of submission to the City Clerk of a given ballot measure. Measures may be qualified without sufficient time for the City to conduct separate studies, and such analysis may be superfluous to what is provided to all voters in the ballot pamphlet.
