Welcome...

The San Diego Public Library is proud to broaden its service range to include children with accessibility needs and their caregivers.

This dedicated space is designed with their foremost needs in mind. Technology in the center allows these children to more fully enjoy what the Denny Sanford Children's Library has to offer.

Binford I CAN, Too! Center

San Diego Central Library @ the
Joan A Irwin Jacobs Common

A calm and comforting space...

TECHNOLOGY

While at the Center, young patrons have access to the following:

- ZoomText: computer screen magnifier
- JAWS: computer screen reader for the visually impaired
- Read & Write Literacy: speech-to-text software
- SARA Reader: converts text from printed to spoken
- Optelec ClearView: 22" magnifier
- High-definition keyboards
- Adjustable height tables
- Assistive Mouse/ Ball Tracking

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES:

- Large print and braille books
- Sensory Integration Kits for children on the autism spectrum
- Parent resource materials

Binford I CAN, Too! Center

A child can begin to use the available space and equipment in the Center once a parent or caregiver meets with the I CAN, Too! Librarian. The librarian will assess the child's needs, determine the appropriateness of services and provide an orientation.

PROGRAMMING

In addition to the technology and equipment, the Center also provides periodic programming for and about children with special needs. These programs provide children with the opportunities to socialize, learn and have fun.
