Subject: City of San Diego Housing Element Annual Report 2012

I am pleased to submit the City of San Diego's Housing Element Annual Report for the calendar year 2012 in compliance with Government Code Section 65400. In order to demonstrate compliance with the Housing Element, the City must report on annual building activity of affordable units (Table A), the annual activity of housing which was rehabilitated, preserved and acquired (Table A2), the annual activity of above-moderate units (Table A3), the City progress in meeting its regional housing needs allocation (Table B), and the City's progress in its implementation of the Housing Element programs during the year 2012 (Table C).

The City of San Diego is also pleased to report that on March 4, 2013 the City Council unanimously adopted the City of San Diego's 5th Cycle (2013-2021) Housing Element. The California Department of Housing and Community Development reviewed the document and found it to be in full compliance with State Housing Element Law (Article 10.6 of the Government Code), certifying it on April 5, 2013. Further, the document has been recognized by the San Diego Section of the American Planning Association by awarding it the 2013 Outstanding Planning in the Comprehensive Planning – Large Jurisdiction category. We look forward to implementing the policies and programs contained within the recently-adopted Housing Element and reporting upon the progress through—future years' annual progress reports pursuant to Government Code Section 65400.

Income restricted residential building activity is based upon units that contain recorded covenants or deed restrictions that limit rents or sale prices over a period of time. Covenants and deed restrictions are generally not recorded until sometime after building permits have been issued. Therefore, issuance of a building permit does not necessarily reflect conveyance of an affordable unit.
