Making the Voices of San Diego's Working Families Heard
In the Nation's Capital

This week, San Diego City Council President Sherri Lightner, Council President Pro Tem Marti Emerald and I are all travelling to Washington, D.C. to advance an important "Families First" agenda. The Families First agenda places San Diego families as the focus and priority when considering and introducing legislation. Whether the item has to do with public safety, infrastructure or the budget, the priority is to consider how the policy will impact the lives of San Diego's working families on a day-to-day basis.

We are being proactive in advocating for support of our top priorities and issues. Among the topics to be discussed are economic development, infrastructure financing, workforce development, and homelessness. In addition to industry shop talk, we will meet with the other elected officials from the San Diego region, including Congressman Scott Peters, Congresswoman Susan Davis and Congressman Juan Vargas.

As Chair of the Economic Development and Intergovernmental Relations Committee, I facilitated this trip to ensure that the City Council has a strong, effective advocacy voice at the federal level. It's another way to advance my legislative agenda and help to improve the overall quality of life in our great city and more importantly - in my district.

Friday District Office Hours: Listening to Concerns

Qualcomm Stadium Food & Beverage Services Agreement

I was extremely disappointed when some labor leaders misinterpreted my vote in Committee a few weeks ago as a vote against working families. That was completely and totally inaccurate. It was simply to move the item to Council.

I made my decision because of my concern for workers—many of whom live in my District. The fact that nearly 500 individuals could possibly be out of a job come June, is unacceptable to me.

Both parties knew that unless this agreement was in the best interest of workers, I wasn't going to support it. So I'm extremely glad to see the support for this item. I've done my due diligence and I'm happy to support the item today.

And, the winner is... Councilmember Myrtle Cole! Along with other winners, Councilmember Cole was recognized at this year's Ruby Awards to celebrate the San Diego Housing Federation's 25th anniversary. Among 400 guests on a beautiful night in San Diego, the Councilmember was recognized with the best in affordable housing. Good job and Congratulations to our Councilmember and all of the other winners!
