Southeastern and Encanto Neighborhoods Community Plan Updates

This week at City Hall, my fellow Councilmembers and I unanimously approved the Southeastern and Encanto Neighborhoods Community Plan Updates. These community plans which are intended to guide responsible development of neighborhoods in Districts 4, 8 and 9, had not been updated since 1987. The City's Planning Department staff conducted over 35 community meetings to receive input and recommendations on various goals and incentives for the Community Plans.

Key issues, goals and incentives:

- Balanced, sustainable communities
- Village and District and transit corridor future transit-supportive growth
- Additional residential units to support additional retail and commercial services
- Increased higher wage employment opportunities
- Enhanced multi-modal improvements
- Additional outdoor spaces, recreation and public facilities

I want to be very clear that this is not an affordable housing plan, but long range policy plans for the next 20-25 years. In reality, this new plan is a step in the right direction and the guide to what we want to see and encourage--quality retail options, balanced mixed-income housing, pedestrian friendly infrastructure, additional parks and open space and quality employment opportunities. The updated plans will also reduce the time it takes to build quality development that will serve residents and local business owners. They will help promote areas of the community that have been overlooked for far too long. We must take advantage of this opportunity for progress not only for the residents living there now, but for generations to come.
