WHEREAS, This Common Council has heard with deep sorrow of the death this date, at his home on Point Loma, of one of its members, Henry N. Manney, and

WHEREAS, It is the desire of his fellow councilmen to take proper recognition of his sudden passing from an active public career, Now be it

Henry Newman Manney was born in Indiana on January 22nd, 1844. He entered the United States Naval Academy from the state of Minnesota on September 24th, 1861, and was graduated with the class of 1866. In April, 1869, he was promoted to ensign, soon afterward to master, and on March 21st, 1870, to lieutenant. In October, 1886, he received a promotion to lieutenant commander and in May, 1895, to commander. His advance to captain came March 3rd, 1901. Following his various assignments as naval officer at sea and on shore, he became, March 15, 1904; chief of the Bureau of Equipment, United States Navy Department, with rank of rear admiral. Upon his retirement he removed to San Diego and here served the Navy Department as inspector upon the construction of the naval coaling station upon Point Loma.

At the General Election in the City of San Diego in April, 1913, he was elected as a member of the Common Council and for two years, until the amendment of the City Charter, served as head of the Department of Police, Health and Morals, to which duties were added the supervision of Harbor Affairs. Throughout his long period of public service he was known for his devotion to the interests of the people, these interests being held as close as his own, and his attention to details marked his career.

Aside from his service in public office, Admiral Manney has, during his residence in this city, found time to devote to the interests of organizations which have had for their purpose the betterment of the community, and these will, like this body, miss his cheerful presence and hearty cooperation.
