

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

ZERO WASTE STAKEHOLDER MEETINGS

The City of San Diego's Environmental Services Department (ESD) needs your valuable input as we develop the City's Zero Waste Plan. You are receiving this email because you expressed interest or were identified as a potential stakeholder. As part of the Zero Waste Plan, ESD will be conducting a series of stakeholder meetings to engage residents, businesses, the solid waste industry, non-profits and others. During these meetings there will be opportunities to provide input on the plan, which includes funding mechanisms, existing programs and new programs to get the City towards 75% reduction by 2020 and Zero Waste by 2040.

We will be conducting four Zero Waste Stakeholder meeting sessions in which topics discussed will vary per session and you have an opportunity to attend either during the day or during the evening.

Your time, effort, and consideration in this process are truly valued and we hope you can attend to collaborate in making San Diego, America's Greenest City.
