

Young Children Should NEVER Be Left Alone In a Vehicle, No Matter What the Weather

Leaving windows down does not help much to keep the car cool. It does expose your baby to small animals and insects, putting her/him at risk for bites and stings.

Children are naturally curious and could climb into the driver's seat to "play" causing a deadly accident.

Temperatures inside your vehicle can rise by as much as 30 degrees Fahrenheit in the first 10-15 minutes.

Your baby could suffer heat stroke, exhaustion, rash, dehydration, brain damage or death.

Children less than a year old are especially at risk.

IF YOU SEE A CHILD ALONE IN A VEHICLE, GET INVOLVED. IF THEY ARE HOT OR SEEM SICK, GET THEM OUT AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

Car accidents sometimes involve parked cars. If your unattended car is in an accident, common sense says baby is ALWAYS better off with you.
