Description

The City of San Diego is currently implementing an Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) initiative, also known as OneSD, to help address Kroll remediation concerns by replacing the major software systems currently in use by the City departments under the Office of the Chief Financial Officer and the Office of the Mayor and Chief Operating Officer. The OneSD ERP system will integrate a wide range of financial and human resources functions into a single consolidated system that will improve management efforts and financial reporting at the City.

The City chose the name OneSD because it reflects one of the principle missions of the project which is to integrate multiple city systems into a single system. The system is a cornerstone of the City's effort to improve internal controls and will allow for more informed data analysis and will facilitate more timely procurement, human resource, and financial decision making. It will also promote more effective and efficient management of the City's finances and greatly assist in the preparation of timely and accurate Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports (CAFRs).
