Completed. Benny Benavidez has been appointed to the Commission.
3. Balance Membership	The Commission recommends that the Mayor and City Council balance the Commission's membership to better reflect the impact the gang issue has at all levels of the community.	On going
Gang Documentation Issues
1. Parents need to know when their child is about to be documented as a gang member.	The Commission recommends that the City of San Diego Police Department research the Federal/State government guidelines regarding CAL gangs allowing the department to notify parents when their child is about to be documented as a gang member.	The Police Department has researched the guidelines and has offered this response: Information is provided to parents to help them determine if their child is being influenced toward gang involvement and membership. The Gang Unit has appointed a full time officer who is tasked with meeting with parents of kids on the cusp of gang membership. The Gang Intervention Officer shares with parents documentation criteria and exposes them to the police contacts their child has had. He also gives them an opportunity to access social services and community based organizations.  The California Attorney General and federal regulations state the gang files are for law enforcement purposes only. We do provide information to help parents determine the status of their child's involvement in gangs.

2. Address Community Concerns about the criteria for documenting gangs.	The Commission recommends that the City Council request that San Diego Police Department Street Gang Unit review the way it uses criteria for documenting gangs: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Subject has admitted to being a gang member</li> <li>2. Subject has been arrested alone or with known gang members for offenses consistent with usual gang activity</li> <li>3. Subject has been identified as a gang member by a reliable informant/source.</li> <li>4. Subject has been identified as a gang member by an untested informant</li> <li>5. Subject has been seen affiliating with documented gang members</li> <li>6. Subject has been seen displaying symbols and/or hand signs</li> <li>7. Subject has been seen frequenting gang areas</li> <li>8. Subject has been seen wearing gang dress</li> <li>9. Subject is known to have gang tattoos.</li> </ol> The San Diego Police Department's Street Gang Unit policy requires that an individual may be "documented" as a gang member when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li><input type="checkbox"/> He or she has three separate contacts with police meeting one or more of the</li> </ul>	Detectives who examine gang documentation are highly trained, court accepted experts. Only they can give an opinion on documentation. The detectives desire as much information as possible because they have to testify in court about that documentation. A Patrol officer or detective might contact person who they believe is a gang member. Their observations are considered, but documentation rests with the gang detective. The gang investigator evaluates the contacts and if appropriate forwards the information to a veteran detective sergeant who approves the documentation. The criteria used to document persons as gang members are established by Attorney General guidelines and a CalGang User agreement. Each agency in the state that uses the CalGang system has agreed to use the same documentation criteria. Geography is only used in combination with other criteria to create a clear picture of the person's gang membership. Gang specific clothing and tattoos are valid ways to identify gang members. The San Diego Police Department documentation criteria are more stringent than other police agencies. Most of the state uses two criteria to document a person. San Diego Police use a minimum of three criteria. Most often investigators use more than three criteria and multiple contacts to ensure proper documentation because their court testimony hinges on the sufficiency of the documentation.

	criteria listed above, or  <input type="checkbox"/> One contact with three or more of the criteria listed above.
3. Rehabilitated gang members should be able to get off CAL Gangs in three years.	The Commission recommends that the City Council establish a panel in collaboration with the District Attorney's office to hear petitions from documented gang members who claim to be rehabilitated to be removed from the CAL Gangs list after three years, not five years.	The San Diego Police Department supports a commission led effort to coordinate a statewide effort to examine the length of time a non-active gang member is documented. Decreasing the documentation timeline was tried in the past and the Attorney General encouraged discontinuing this practice. The Gang Unit can, on a case-by-case basis, re-examine an individual's history, in light of additional community information, to judge their gang involvement based on the totality of the available information. The Unit Commander, can consult with gang investigators to make a thorough assessment. If it is determined the individual is not an active gang member the person could be removed from the files. Gang detectives have removed and/or prevented persons from becoming documented as gang members when, in their opinion as experts, the criteria was not sufficient to warrant documentation. At a recent CAL Gangs Node Advisory Committee meeting SDPD representatives polled members to see if anyone purged records prior to five years. There were none. LAPD, LASD and all San Diego agencies use the five year purge timeline.
