Professional History

Senior Director of Operations, J. Craig Venter Institute, San Diego, CA. November 2007-December 2010

Facilities and Operations

Assist with real estate search for a research facility to accommodate growth. Organize laboratory moves and manage renovations to a newly leased building. Negotiate contracts with all lab, administration and building service providers. Manage space allocations and capital equipment procurement. Oversee the lease renewal to guarantee competitive terms and conditions while saving the institute over $1.3M over two years in rent and CAM expense. Additional savings will be recognized due to liability reduction in operational pass-through expenses and energy cost savings. Responsible for the development, implementation and monitoring of the budget process for all operations and facilities budgets.

Project Management: In 2008, planned and facilitated laboratory moves to a larger facility, in the process oversaw three renovation projects from design through construction all while ensuring minimal disruption to scientific work. Organized monthly meetings between Principal Investigators and upper management to foster greater communication of Institute goals. Simultaneously created monthly meetings for Lab managers, PI's, and Operations staff to ensure labs are operating at maximum efficiency and that there is minimal duplication of resources.

Personnel Administration:

This position is responsible for human resource management including merits, performance evaluations, promotions, demotions, terminations and assignment of job duties for five direct reports. Act as backup for all of the PI's in San Diego for ensuring effort reporting is accurate and electronically entered in time to meet payroll.

Financial & Budget: Responsible for the development, implementation and monitoring of the budget process for the West Coast Operations. Assisted with the transition from a manual process in excel to an online application in Cognos. Develop financial status reports for PI's as needed due to changes of IDC rates showing the impact on the direct costs for each grant. Prepare new budgets as needed to prevent deficit spending.

Administrative Director, Cardiovascular Research Center (CVRC), Massachusetts General Hospital, August 2005 – November 2007

Personnel and HR Administration:

Ten Direct Reports. Manage all faculty recruitments with dual appointments at MGH and Harvard Medical School. Develop recruitment and retention packages and monitor fund set up. This position handled or oversaw all merits, performance evaluations, promotions, demotions and terminations for non academic employees. Responsible for HR actions using PeopleSoft for an employee base numbering 120 people. Recruitment and retention expertise facilitated the growth and stability for the CVRC in both academic and staff positions. Supervise the preparation of academic files for: recruitment, review and promotion of the CVRC faculty. Prepare the faculty salary funding worksheets, making appropriate recommendations to the Director and the Division Chief. Evaluate job tasks and reassign duties to design efficient and effective units. Assist scientists to evaluate their staffing needs and funding resources to ensure research goals are met.

San Diego, CA

Financial Management:

Responsible for a portfolio of over $35M – 45M (annual) consisting of primarily federal awards, clinical research grants, internal funds and other non federal funding. Responsible for the annual budget development, implementation and monitoring, while incorporating long term plans and short term strategic goals. Design and create annual operating reports, board reports and others as requested by management and other stakeholders. Through the use of delegated authority, enforce policy, grant approval and exception to policy with regard to business transactions. I also managed a complicated start up package for the Director to ensure that the terms of his engagement were met and milestones set for the CVRC were on track. I also developed revenue and expenditure reports to assist PI's in achieving research aims while practicing cost containment strategies.

Contract and

Grant Administration: Assist the PI's with long-term planning for submissions as well as financial analysis of research operations. Monitor all pre and post award activities for the Center to ensure compliance to and fulfillment of, all contractual agreements. Led a reorganization of the administrative roles to provide better coverage to the PI's in both the pre and the post award arena. Designed monthly financial reports designed to enable scientists to understand the direct costs available for day to day operations. Manage a portfolio that ranged from $35-$42M annually. Successfully led the conversion from manual to electronic submission of grants to the NIH for the MGH Cardiology Division. Expertise in industry contract negotiations. Committee work included working with corporate arm (Partners Health Care) to develop a new policy over effort reporting for all eleven of its affiliates with special focus on the appropriate Code of Federal Regulations and how the cost principles apply to hospitals.

Facilities and Operations:

allocations located at two research sites and in three ancillary laboratories within the hospital campus. Committee work included meeting regularly with focus groups for the proposed Harvard Allston campus planning group. Another project was to streamline administrative tasks by designing an internal website to make navigation easier for both academic and staff employees.

Research Management:

Created a recharge methodology for three cores while at the CVRC; two administrative cores to improve delivery of services to scientists located at two different sites and a Zebra fish Core to be utilized by CVRC scientists and other collaborators. Administrative services included conference

Prior to being hired at MGH, I worked as a consultant in the spring and summer of 2007 to assist MGH Research Management team with the design of laboratory and administrative space at a newly constructed research facility. Research space was reviewed and allocations changed at the second CVRC research site located on another campus. Responsible for all space DANA C. WHITE, CPA development, science socials, post award management, financial analysis and forecasting, web design, intranet design and administrative assistance.

Director of Finance and Administration, (MSO III) Institute of Molecular Medicine, University of California, San Diego, La Jolla CA. August 2001-May 2005

Personnel and HR Administration:

Seven Direct Reports. Initiate all payroll actions for the Institute. This position is responsible for human resource management including merits, performance evaluations, promotions, demotions, terminations and assignment of job duties for all direct reports. Supervise the preparation of academic files for recruitment, review and promotion. Prepare the faculty salary worksheets, make appropriate recommendations to the Director and make any adjustments in the system.

Financial Management:

Responsible for the development of the ORU's/ Institute's annual operating budget. Reorganized administrative infrastructure to maximize efficiencies and resource allocation. Instituted cost containment practices in the research and laboratory units, as well as in administrative areas. Designed business practices to assure areas of highest risk were adequately monitored and that a system of internal controls was in place and functioning as intended. Through the use of delegated authority this position could enforce policy and grant approval and exceptions to policy with regard to business transactions. Responsible for budget development, implementation and monitoring.

Contract and Grant Administration:

stration: Portfolio of $16-$24M (annual) consisting of federal, state, other non federal awards, industry contracts, as well as discretionary and internal funds. Oversee the preparation of proposals for submission to various agencies. Consult with Principal Investigators (PI's) regarding budgetary needs and ensure budgets reflect the specific aims of proposals. Experience in pre and post award administration and knowledgeable of the compliance requirements as stated in Circulars A-110, A-133 and A-21 with a broad understanding of how they relate to the day-to-day activities in sponsored research. Assist PI's in evaluating their staffing needs, and funding resources to ensure research goals are met.

Other Relevant Experience:

Work with the Director in planning various symposia and international conferences including the annual "Days of Molecular Medicine" conference and biannual Cell Press workshops. These are annual international conferences held in various locales around the world. Represent the Director and Center in various meetings, both within and outside of the hospital, including new construction planning meetings with the Harvard Stem Cell Institute and the Allston Focus Groups, as well as, weekly and monthly divisional meetings.

Controller for Renton Technical College, Renton, WA. August 1998 – July 2001

Business Office Operations:

Business/ Controller's office functions including: Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable, General Ledger, Payroll, Inventory, Capital Projects, Travel, Risk Management, Contracts and Grants, Purchasing and Financial Aid, Cash Management and month and year end closing. Create and coordinate an annual program of risk management for the entire college. Evaluate the internal controls within programmatic areas, including selfsupport and recharge units. Responsible for all financial reporting to internal and external stakeholders. Coordinated the annual audit conducted by the State Auditor's Office and worked closely with the audit team to ensure that documents were available as requested and tests could be conducted to meet the audit plan as determined by the auditor in charge. As the manager, I oversaw the work of ten direct reports.

Contract and

Grant Administration: Oversaw the administration of student financial aid awards. Responsible for all final reports sent to the granting agencies, both state and federal. This position was the signatory official for a small program of sponsored projects awarded to the college.

Auditor, Washington State Auditor's Office, Olympia, WA. April 1997- Aug 1998

Field Auditor:

After sitting for and passing the CPA exam I applied for a position with the State Auditor's Office in the state of Washington. I was assigned to the "Higher Education" team that conducted the audits of community colleges and state universities. As a field auditor, I was expected to design the audit program, conduct the fieldwork, write the audit report and lastly report the results to the University's Board and Upper Management. I had no direct reports and about 80% of my time was spent in the field conducting audits.
