Subject: CPC representative on Housing Element Working Group

The Planning Department is currently working on an update to the Housing Element of the General Plan. The Housing Element is updated every five or six years. The draft we are preparing now will cover the period from 2005-2010. A citizen working group is being formed to review the draft Housing Element and provide input.

In past Housing Element cycles we had a representative from CPC participating as a member of the working group and we are hopeful that CPC will again select someone to join this group for the current update. Currently we anticipate that a rough draft should be available for review in approximately two months. We anticipate that at least two meetings will be scheduled to elicit input. The existing 1999-2004 Housing Element can be viewed on the General Plan section of the City's web site.
