DUI Checkpoint Planned This Weekend

San Diego, CA – The San Diego Police Department Traffic Unit will be conducting a DUI checkpoint on Saturday, March 26, 2011 between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 5:00 a.m. at an undisclosed location within the city limits. DUI checkpoints are an enforcement tool proven effective in reducing the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol-related crashes, as well as being a valuable means for heightening awareness of the dangers of impaired driving.

Officers will be checking drivers for signs of alcohol and/or drug impairment. Officers will check for proper licensing and will strive to impact motorists only momentarily. If officers suspect that a driver has been drinking or is impaired, they will conduct a field sobriety test. Those who fail can expect jail, vehicle storage fees, license suspension, insurance rate increases, along with fines, fees, DUI classes, and other expenses that can exceed $10,000.

Statewide, overall traffic deaths declined by 23%, from 3,995 in 2007 to 3,081 in 2009. Total traffic fatalities are at their lowest levels in six decades, since the federal government began compiling figures. According to federal statistics, DUI deaths declined by 16%, from 1,132 in 2007 to 950 in 2009. Alcohol-impaired deaths still accounted for the largest category of overall vehicle fatalities in 2009, with 31% of all deaths caused by a drunk or impaired driver.

“Everyone in California should be heartened with these figures,” said Christopher J. Murphy, Director of the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS). “But as encouraging as this is, we can’t let up on the efforts to encourage and support traffic safety. You can help make your community safe: if you see a Drunk Driver – Call 9-1-1.”

Funding for this and other DUI checkpoints is provided to the San Diego Police Department by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, targeting those who still don’t heed the message to designate a sober driver.

MEDIA NOTE: For the location of the DUI checkpoint, please call Officer Mark McCullough no earlier than 7:00 pm on Saturday, March 26, 2011.
