The Training Center, a state-licensed residential drug and alcohol program, in collaboration with the City of San Diego Park and Recreation Department and the San Diego Police Department, will be sponsoring the 2nd annual Southeastern X-Fest. The event is free to the public.

X-Fest 2 will feature BMX bicycle, skateboard and boxing demonstrations, lowriders and vintage police cars, music, a rock climbing wall, clowns, face painting and bounce houses for the kids, and food and entertainment for all ages. A performance by a world class band is scheduled, as well as local performers and dance teams.

Professional skateboard stars and legends will be present to demonstrate the tricks and skills that made them famous. Come out and meet Tony Alva, Jay Adams, Tony Magnusson, Dennis Martinez and others as they teach kids about safety and healthy activities. Professional BMX stunt team "Soil" will be there, too.

The event will be attended by San Diego Mayor Jerry Sanders, City Council President Tony Young, Police Chief Bill Lansdowne, Probation Chief Mack Jenkins, Recreation Deputy Director David Monroe and many more.

The San Diego Police Department, the military community and our event sponsors encourage public safety through an active lifestyle that includes healthy recreational activities.
