CENTRAL LIBRARY HOSTS AUTHOR TALK ABOUT THE AMERICAN HEALTH CARE

Library Author Series Features Books by Local Writers and Thinkers

SAN DIEGO – The City of San Diego Public Library will host an author talk featuring San Diego author Umang Malhotra and his new book, Solving the American Health Care Crisis, on Wednesday, May 12 at 6:30 p.m. in the 3rd floor Auditorium of the Central Library, located at 820 E Street in downtown San Diego. This event is free and open to the public.

In Solving the American Health Care Crisis, Umang Malhotra provides a fresh, holistic view of the flaws inherent in the American health care system and examines how other affluent nations manage to provide quality universal health care coverage for half the cost per person. He explores why the richest country in the world treats health care as a privilege rather than as a basic right, unlike other industrialized nations. He offers comprehensive solutions in a commonsense book aimed at the public and policymakers alike.

Solving the American Health Care Crisis reveals how other countries approach health care while examining the critical economic, social, and political issues that America must resolve in order to make progress. It presents compelling solutions for an affordable, high quality, and accessible universal system while answering key questions and asking some very pointed ones in return. Umang Malhotra earned degrees from London University, has a Ph.D. the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, and later studied Economics. He is the CEO of Artistic Goods LLC, bringing people and art together and previously authored Individual, Society, and the World.
