

For Planning Purposes
February 1, 2011

Contact: Molly Weedn
415-209-4217

Free Tax Preparation Event Aims to Empower San Diegans

Nonprofit Organizations Team Up with Library to Offer Free Services to Lower-income Taxpayers

San Diego— Continuing a series of statewide free tax assistance events, the San Diego Public Library, Computer and Communications Industry Association (CCIA) and Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation will be sponsoring a free tax assistance event at the Logan Heights Branch Library in San Diego.

Thanks to committed Intuit employee volunteers, Saturday's event is expected to serve over one hundred people.

Who: San Diego Public Library
Computer & Communications Industry Association (CCIA)
Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation

What: Free Tax Prep Event for lower-income families and individuals
Volunteers will be on hand to guide taxpayers in preparing and filing their own taxes using TurboTax® Freedom Edition software. The software is designed to identify all tax credits and deductions for which taxpayers qualify.

When: February 5, 2011, 9:30am – 2:00pm
Logan Heights Branch Library
567 S. 28th Street
San Diego, CA 92113
Map and Parking at Logan Heights Library (PDF)

In addition to receiving free tax preparation, families and individuals will be able to visit an education and health resource fair to learn about even more programs and services available within their community. The resource fair will include San Diego Unified School District, UC San Diego, Family Resource Center, Family Health Centers, and South East Family Center.

Taxpayers are encouraged to make an appointment for this event by calling 1-866-577-1231.

For more information about other CCIA and Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation free tax assistance events in California and around the nation, please visit www.intuitempowers.com.