

The San Diego Public Library

The Theatrical Troupe of the Women's Museum of California and the San Diego Public Library present

A Moral Earthquake: Campaigning for Women's Right to Vote

A Moral Earthquake: Campaigning for Women's Right to Vote is a dramatic reading--complete with a troupe dressed in clothing of the day and photographs from the campaign--that tells the story of how San Diego women and men won suffrage for California's women in 1911.

FREE (First come, first served seating)
6:30 pm, Wednesday, October 19
San Diego Public Library
Auditorium--3rd floor
820 E Street--San Diego

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

See the Women's Museum of California exhibit in the lobby
October 13 - 23!

This information will be made available in alternative formats upon request.

2011

www.sandiegolibrary.org