Teaching Grammar Effectively
8:30-11:15 a.m. (double session)
Explicit and implicit approaches to teaching grammar will be discussed and demonstrated. Then, a lesson integrating grammar and speaking will be demonstrated, including activities for presentation, guided practice and communicative practice. Finally, tips on teaching verb tenses will be shared.

Effective Lesson Planning: What is a Lesson Plan, and What Should It Contain?
This workshop is beneficial to help ensure the success of your work with students. Topics include types of lesson plans, goals, objectives, materials, etc. Attendees will have the opportunity to create a lesson plan during the workshop. Please bring some material for the specific course you teach or tutor.

Vocabulary: A Key to Reading Success
8:30-11:15 a.m. (double session)
Vocabulary is a key component of reading and integral to comprehension as well as academic and workplace success. Expanding a reader’s vocabulary strengthens reading skills and builds confidence. This workshop will offer an evidence-based approach to vocabulary instruction for adult and young adult learners. Participants will learn how their students can benefit from instruction using high utility words encountered in all academic content areas, as well as in the workplace and daily life settings. Through demonstration and interactive activities, participants will learn sequenced, meta-cognitive activities that build word knowledge, sharpen critical thinking skills, and develop both oral and written language skills. The instruction and activities are for students reading at 4th grade or higher level equivalencies.

Morphology: A Structured, Multisensory Approach
8:30-9:45 a.m./10:00-11:15 a.m. (repeats)
The study of morphology, using Latin and Greek roots, prefixes, and suffixes helps develop spelling, and vocabulary skills. In this interactive session, she will demonstrate how to use multisensory procedures, including key words, gestures, manipulative and movement, to make instruction more lively, exciting, and memorable. Participants will leave this session with effective strategies to enhance their teaching of morphology.

Michael P. Lewis (teacher) is the developer/Coordinator (with a group of dedicated teachers/administrators) of the highly successful Montgomery Adult School Vision Program. The Vision program at MOA has had great success with struggling learners and has earned the esteemed title of “Best Practices” and therefore will be in the district archives of all school districts throughout the state of California. He is also the founder and president of the Foundation for the Disabled Learner. As a teacher at Montgomery Adult School, his colleagues have voted him “Teacher of the Year” twice. Mr. Lewis began his career in education as a tutor at San Diego City College and San Diego State University.

Unlocking Learning Challenges Using Visual Processing Activities
1:45-4:30 p.m. (double session)
For individuals who have a difficult time learning, ADD, ADHD, Dyslexia, Brain Damage, Autism, label or no label, the missing link for those with these exceptionalities could be visual processing deficiencies. Participants in this workshop will have a new understanding of their minds as they acquire the knowledge and the understanding of the visual pathways to the brain that are essential in all learning.
This workshop will teach you how to tap into these powerful visual pathways with simple techniques and procedures such as eye exercises, color enhancement and activities. You will discover how these activities can raise test scores, increase reading speed/comprehension, enhance mathematical word problem solving, increase note taking ability, and eliminate many other learning challenges that your students may have. You will gain the knowledge to permanently and positively change the struggling learner’s life.

Elena Mendoza began her work as an educational therapist shortly after completing her degree from California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo. After leaving Lindamood-Bell Learning Processes, she received additional training in other methodologies including Orton-Gillingham and Wilson Language. Ms. Mendoza began her private practice and founded a learning center in 1997. In 2007 she sold her practice and relocated back to California where she currently serves on the board of the San Diego Branch of the International Dyslexia Association. Ms. Mendoza continues to work as an educational therapist in San Diego.

Comparative Approaches to Teaching Phonics
1:45-4:30 p.m. (double session)
Ms. Mendoza will discuss the meaning of phonics, phonological awareness, and different programs that teach phonics. We will explore different programs through lecture and activities. Different programs to explore will include LIPS, Wilson Language, and Orton-Gillingham.
Kim Noriega, Families for Literacy Coordinator, has 20 years experience with the San Diego Public Library and has extensive experience in managing family programming, youth services and literacy based curriculum development. Kim developed the story necklace concept for literacy application with Helen Warner.

Helen Warner earned a B.A. in Ethnic Studies from UCSD and a M.A. in Elementary and Secondary Education and Multiple Subject Teaching Credential from UC Irvine. Currently, Helen teaches at Gompers Preparatory Academy in San Diego. She worked for two years as a Literacy AmeriCorps member for READ/San Diego, the San Diego Public Library's Adult Literacy Program. Her prior experiences include facilitating family literacy classes, leading after school programs for English learners, and teaching writing workshops for adult learners.

Stories at Your Fingertips: The Magic of Story Necklaces 1:45-3:00 p.m. / 3:15-4:30 p.m. (repeats)
If you like stories, you’ll love story necklaces! During this session you’ll make your own Where the Wild Things Are story necklace and learn how to translate any story into a story necklace. You’ll learn how to make story necklaces with families in literacy programs and kids in classrooms (even on a tight budget). You’ll receive teaching materials, including a rubric detailing the literacy skills benefits of the process, and—you’ll have lots of fun! Attendees will walk away from this session with:
1. Hands on, step by step experience (with supporting rationale for each step) in converting any great story into a story necklace for different ages in classrooms and library literacy programs.
2. The many benefits of using this process of creating a story necklace as a literacy tool in a variety of settings.
3. Their own Where the Wild Things Are story necklace.

Discovering Structured & Systematic Written Instruction from Language Building to Paragraphs 1:45-3:00 p.m.
Written expression remains a persistent problem for many students. Students demonstrate difficulty generating and organizing language for written tasks. Writing Adventures is an explicit, multi-sensory approach to the writing process. Review of the Writing Task Analysis guides a discovery of writing activities that emphasize the function and organization of language in sentences and paragraphs. Participants will receive materials and plans to implement the writing concepts and practice for mastery.

Adjectives, Verbs, and Prepositions, OH MY! Using Diagramming to Build Comprehension 3:15-4:30 p.m.
For many students and teachers “diagramming” sentences is a dreaded part of Language Arts. What’s the point? When diagramming is approached from the perspective of “what is the function of the language in sentences?” we can use grammar concepts to build comprehension skills. Using simplified language and a meta-cognitive process, students and teachers discover the parts of speech within sentences. Participants will create “Code Cards” to use in their settings and learn how to apply this process with formal grammar programs.

Health Literacy San Diego: A Collaborative Approach to Improving Health Through Literacy 1:45-3:00 p.m.
Health Literacy Curriculum: SHOWCASING A PRESCRIPTION FOR HEALTH EDUCATION AND LITERACY 3:15-4:30 p.m.
Health Literacy San Diego is proud to release Health Education and Literacy (HEAL), a cumulative health literacy curriculum that teaches health information through adult basic education (ABE) and English as a second language (ESL) English literacy lessons. HEAL is based on NIFL’s Research Based Health Materials and Instruction Guide and customized to address the unique population and health challenges in San Diego County. Participants will gain a better understanding of health literacy and the challenges pursuing health endeavors as a result of low literacy skills; learn about the development of an innovative program and partnership with a health organization; and learn how to implement and teach HEAL in your program.

Guillermo Verdin has been teaching Reading and Language Arts to ABE adult learners since 1998. For the last four years, he has been heavily involved with Evidence-Based Reading Instruction (EBRI) in the classroom and most recently as a trainer for the CALPRO-EBRI Institute. Currently, Guillermo is an ABE-EBRI instructor for Belmont Community Adult School in Los Angeles.

Evidence-Based Reading Strategies and Instructional Techniques to Improve Comprehension 8:30-9:45 a.m./10:00-11:15 a.m. (repeats)
Do your learners get to the end of the paragraph or passage and NOT understand or remember what they have read? Do your learners ever tell you that they “CAN read, BUT it’s the comprehension” that gets them? This workshop will provide you with some evidence-based reading strategies aimed to actively engage your learners with the text they read and ultimately improve their overall comprehension and retention of the material they read. Participants will acquire knowledge of some effective reading strategies that they will be able to apply at their next tutoring session with their learners. All strategies presented have been utilized first-hand in the classroom by the presenter/trainer for the CALPRO-EBRI Institute. Currently, Mr. Verdin is an ABE-EBRI instructor for Belmont Community Adult School in Los Angeles.

Research Based Writing Strategies and Techniques 1:45-4:30 p.m. (double session)
Do you have learners who are reluctant to write? Would you like to help your students write more effective sentences? Research shows that short, frequent writing activities help learners improve their writing fluency and eventually overcome their reluctance to write. Research also shows that sentence combining helps learners write more effectively. Come learn about the federal TEAL initiative aimed at identifying research-based instructional practices in the content area of writing.

USCIS-San Diego Experienced staff with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services Office in San Diego will deliver the content for the Citizenship training.

Teaching Civics and Citizenship to Immigrants 1:45-4:30 p.m. (double session)
Overview of the work program of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and, in particular, District 24, the “San Diego District,” with a focus on the naturalization process and procedures. A detailed discussion on eligibility for naturalization, the application procedure, application processing, biometrics, English language exemptions, the Civics and History Test and basic study materials, the interview, and the final hearing or naturalization ceremony. In addition, a review of the content of the USCIS website will be provided with special attention to the resources available to instructors. Lastly, the agency’s ongoing initiative known as the Unauthorized Practice of Immigration Law (UPIL) will be discussed.
Denise was trained in Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Minnesota. Her initial experiences in literacy education began in teaching English as a Second Language. In 2006 she was trained in a multi-sensory Orton-based approach to teaching reading and spelling. Upon completion, she began offering seminars to parents and teachers, training schools, tutoring, and speaking at conventions. Her most popular lectures were overviews of the material she called “The Logic of English” and “Teaching and Preventing Struggling Readers and Spellers.” Countless classroom teachers and reading specialists commented that they learned more in an hour than in all their graduate school training. Scientists, engineers and other professionals confided that they had always struggled with English and asked, “why didn’t someone teach me this way from the beginning?”

She has now expanded this material into her first trade paperback, Uncovering the Logic of English, which has been endorsed by Dr. Reid Lyon, Dr. Robert Sweet, Jr, and Dr. Temple Grandin.

The Logic of English: A Common-Sense Solution to America’s Literacy Crisis
Do you believe that English spelling is illogical and riddled with exceptions? This myth frustrates both students and teachers alike and has contributed to our society’s widespread struggle with reading and spelling. It doesn’t need to be this way! Rather than wrestling with countless exceptions, we can master 104 tools that logically explain 98% of English words. We will learn:

• Why does C say two sounds in accent?
• Why is there a silent final E in have and give?
• Why do we drop the silent final E in servicing but not in serviceable?

By revealing secrets of the complex code of English, we will discover a systematic phonics which moves beyond cat and dog and experience how the Logic of English has the potential to reverse the literacy crisis. Together we can make this knowledge as common as 1+1=2 and provide all people with a solid foundation in reading.

The Friends of READ/San Diego will have copies of this book for purchase, and Ms. Eide will be available to sign them.
