

A Collection of Letters Written by Veterans & Their Families

WAR COMES HOME
THE LEGACY

On View in the

Dickinson Popular Library

For veterans, returning home from war can be both an exhilarating and challenging experience. Through private correspondence from almost every major conflict in U.S. history, War Comes Home offers insight into the thoughts and emotions of veterans and their families upon their homecoming. These intimate perspectives – from the Civil War era through the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq – reveal how war can shape a life, a family, and a community.

Join us Thursday, July 16th at 5 p.m., for a special event related to the War Comes Home exhibit. Guests are invited to view the exhibit in the Dickinson Popular Library and meet co-curator Andrew Carroll, New York Times best-seller and Director of the Center for American War Letters.

The event will continue in the Auditorium at 5:30 p.m. with a brief presentation by Carroll and a live performance by some of the veteran writers featured on the new radio show from So Say We All and KPBS -- Incoming.
