Revised 6/05

The San Diego Public Library has print and electronic resources that can help in writing your Business and Marketing Plans.

These and other resources can also provide in-depth background information or timely news for starting, developing, managing and marketing your business.

This brochure highlights some important resources under the topics:

- Demographics (print)
- Marketing & Business-to-Business Contacts (computer databases)
- Business Directories (products, marketing and contacts (print)

The print resources listed here are found in the Social Sciences & Business Reference Section of the Central Library, on the third floor.

The databases are available at any of the library branches on the library’s catalog and available remotely for SDPL library card holders.

The Central Library and the Branches also have circulating "how to" books on various business management and technology topics.
