RECOGNIZED OBLIGATION PAYMENT SCHEDULE

Per AB 26 - Section 34177(I)

Filed for Period June 2012 to December 2012

1. Due to the number of line items, the obligations are broken down into six categories. The categories are defined and a summary of the obligations by category is provided on the cover page of this payment schedule.

2. Unless otherwise indicated, all specific Section references in this payment schedule are to the California Health and Safety Code, particularly the provisions added as a result of the recent State legislation, known as ABx1 26 (AB 26). This payment schedule may be amended at any time in accordance with the requirements of AB 26. The amount of the estimated monthly payments shown in this payment schedule represents the current, good faith estimate, although the actual monthly payments may be lower or higher than reflected in this payment schedule so long as the maximum expenditure amount under the contract or other obligation is not exceeded.

3. General Reservation of Rights: The provisions of AB 26, together with the provisions of California Community Redevelopment Law that have not been altered by AB 26, are vague, ambiguous, and internally inconsistent with respect to the disposition and expenditure of (i) low and moderate income housing funds and (ii) bond proceeds. To the extent that housing funds and bond proceeds have not already been contractually committed for a specific project or purpose, it is uncertain to what extent the funds and proceeds need to be reflected in the payment schedules under AB 26. The Successor Agency is informed that fundamental disagreements exist on these topics between the State of California, on one hand, and affordable housing advocates and bondholders, on the other hand. To date, these fundamental disagreements have not been resolved through any legislative amendment to AB 26 or any final court ruling.

In this instance, the payment schedule includes line items, particularly with reference to the Cooperation Agreement dated February 28, 2011 between the City and the Successor Agency (as successor to the former RDA), that identify the future expenditure of all housing funds and bond proceeds currently being held by the Successor Agency. However, if any such line items are invalidated for any reason, the Successor Agency's present intent is to continue holding the applicable housing funds and bond proceeds, but to refrain from expending those funds and proceeds unless the expenditure is required under an existing contract. In such event, the Successor Agency intends to continue holding such funds and proceeds in separate, earmarked accounts until such time that one of the following occurs: (a) a future legislative amendment to AB 26 is approved, or a final, non-appealable order by a court of competent jurisdiction is issued, confirming that the Successor Agency's disposition of such funds and proceeds to the local County Auditor-Controller will not result in the Successor Agency's violation of any applicable affordable housing provisions in California Community Redevelopment Law, any existing bond covenants, or any applicable tax-related restrictions on the expenditure of bond proceeds; or (b) the State of California or the County of San Diego provides the City with a signed agreement committing to defend and indemnify the Successor Agency and the City against any lawsuits, claims, damages and losses arising from the Successor Agency's allegedly wrongful disposition of such funds and proceeds to the local County Auditor-Controller.

In addition, the Successor Agency reserves the right to amend all applicable payment schedules in the future to allow the Successor Agency's collection and expenditure of new housing funds to the extent necessary to comply with any statutory obligations that are deemed to remain binding on the Successor Agency despite the passage of AB 26. By way of example only, affordable housing advocates may be successful in their present assertion that all successor agencies have a continuing obligation to collect and expend new 20% tax increment housing funds over the remaining life of each redevelopment project area in order to fulfill any allegedly unmet affordable housing obligations.

4. The Total Outstanding Debt Obligations stated in this document are as of June 30, 2012 unless otherwise noted.
5. In instances where obligations are shown for expenditures associated with pending claims or litigation matters, the Successor Agency is not making an admission of actual liability and the monetary amount shown in the payment schedule is based on the amount of damages being sought by the plaintiff in the particular pending litigation. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "5".)
6. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 34177(a)(1), existing agreements and financial arrangements between the City and the Successor Agency have been included in this payment schedule because, among other things, they have been validated by operation of law prior to the Governor's signature of ABx1 26 on June 28, 2011.
7. Where noted, the Total Outstanding Obligation represents the annual obligation for Fiscal Year 2012-2013 only. Payments will continue on an annual basis, but the future amount is unknown. Amount will be adjusted annually. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "7".)
8. Contract entered into by CCDG pursuant to authority granted by the Redevelopment Agency per resolution #'s 04438 and 04659. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "8".)
9. The total outstanding obligation stated for this item covers only the term ending June 30, 2013. Depending on future circumstances, the Successor Agency may need to renew the applicable contract or enter into a replacement contract with a different service provider to provide the necessary services. This payment schedule may need to be amended in the future, in accordance with Section 34177(a)(1), to the extent appropriate to reflect any future additional expenses of this nature. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "9".)
10. The total outstanding insurance obligations stated are limited to the next scheduled policy renewal that may or may not occur during the time frame covered by this document. Insurance requirements may continue into the time frame beyond the scope of this schedule. The Successor Agency will incur certain insurance-related expenses in order to wind down the Agency's operations in an orderly fashion. The precise amount of additional insurance-related payments owed in future fiscal years is not known at this time and is subject to fluctuating conditions in the insurance market, including changes in standard premiums. Contracts for insurance coverage are typically renewed on an annual basis. This payment schedule may need to be amended in the future, in accordance with Section 34177(a)(1), to the extent appropriate to reflect any future insurance-related expenses to be paid by the Successor Agency. Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "10".)
11. Although the basic monthly costs of these items are included in the expenditures of SEDC in Section V, page 2, line 16, there are contracts or agreements in place that could require expenditures beyond the cost listed due to the discontinuation of services or default of the corporate contracts. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "11".)

12. The Successor Agency has not allocated the administrative cost allowance to specific line items in this schedule because both the meaning and the scope of the administrative cost allowance are vague, ambiguous and ill-defined under AB 26. For instance, the term "administrative costs" is not defined in AB 26. Moreover, the State Department of Finance has issued written guidance to the effect that certain administrative services of the Successor Agency, including but not limited to specific project implementation activities, can be paid through future property tax revenue, bond proceeds and other project funds and thus will be exempt from, and will not count against, the administrative cost allowance under AB 26. It is unclear, however, which administrative services will qualify for this exemption. The fulfillment of certain line items in this schedule may involve administrative services that are partially subject to, but also partially exempt from, the administrative cost allowance.

13. These particular costs are broken down by redevelopment project areas solely to reflect the manner in which the Successor Agency internally accounts for these costs. The Successor Agency reserves the right to re-allocate the costs among redevelopment project areas as may be reasonably necessary and appropriate under the circumstances. The current allocation of costs constitutes the Successor Agency's current good faith estimate, which may vary from the future costs actually incurred. (Applicable line items in the payment schedule are labeled footnote "13".)

14. The County Auditor-Controller has instructed the Successor Agency not to show an exact monetary amount in this general line item for administrative expenses. The Successor Agency has followed the County Auditor-Controller's instruction, but reserves the right to collect and expend the full administrative cost allowance shown on the cover page of this payment schedule to cover general administrative expenses.
