Note: The Census Bureau collects race and Hispanic origin information following the U.S. Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) standards for collecting and tabulating data on race and ethnicity. In October 1997, the OMB issued the current standards, which identify five race groups: white, black or African-American, American Indian or Alaska Native, Asian, and Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander. The Census Bureau also utilized a sixth category - "some other race." Respondents who reported only one race are shown in these six groups.

Individuals were first presented with the option to self-identify with more than one race in the 2000 Census, and this continued in the 2010 Census. People who identify with more than one race may choose to provide multiple races in response to the race question. The 2010 Census results provide new data on the size and makeup of the nation's multiracial population. Respondents who reported more than one of the six race groups are included in the "two or more races" population. There are 57 possible combinations of the six race groups.

The Census Bureau included the "some other race" category for responses that could not be classified in any of the other race categories on the questionnaire. In the 2000 Census, the vast majority of people who reported only as "some other race" were of Hispanic or Latino origin. Data on Hispanics or Latinos, who may be of any race, were obtained from a separate question on ethnicity.

NOTE: Change to the California 2010 P.L. 94-171 Summary File data as delivered

A misallocation of a small number of military personnel aboard naval vessels was discovered in our 2010 Census P.L. 94-171 Redistricting Summary Files. The Census Bureau determined that this misallocation was the result of a geocoding error. Such discrepancies can occur when a living quarter, such as a house, apartment or military vessel, is placed in an incorrect location. A thorough review of all ports followed. We discovered a systematic error in the manner in which a few military vessels had been geocoded, including an error involving Coronado and San Diego, California.

We determined that 5,785 persons located in 2010 tabulation block 06073 0113.00 1029 should have been assigned to tabulation block 06073 0113.00 1000, in Coronado, rather than in San Diego. The Census Bureau has provided new population counts that enable data users to have redistricting data free of this inadvertent error for the two blocks. We conveyed this updated block information to the affected jurisdictions, the California Citizens Redistricting Commission, and to the California State Legislature. We also posted this errata notice on our Redistricting Data Program website and to the American FactFinder, the 2010 Census dissemination Web site.

The new total for Coronado and San Diego will be available on the redistricting data office website at www.census.gov/rdo/data. Data users on our American FactFinder who are looking for population figures for Coronado and San Diego will be pointed to the changes located on the redistricting data page.
