

California Friendly Gardening Festival

October 21, 2006

9am-3pm

<http://www.thegarden.org/>

Come help us celebrate autumn with an exposition of California-Friendly Gardening. Visitors can buy California-Friendly plants, learn about the newest irrigation technologies, and hear presentations on water-wise gardening, home composting, water conservation programs, and much more. Landscape design consultants will offer personalized 20-minute gardening advice, with advance appointments. The whole family will enjoy activities such as the Great Pumpkin Walk, Dr. Wilderness, and musical entertainment. Tell a friend and mark your calendars for the California-Friendly Gardening Festival at the beautiful Water Conservation Garden. The Water Conservation Garden is located about 20 minutes East of San Diego (in Rancho San Diego) next to Cuyamaca College. Admission and Parking is Free.

More event information at:

<http://www.thegarden.org/upload/gardenfestival.php>

Map to the Garden:

<http://www.thegarden.org/pages/maps/maps.php>